STERLING'S DECLINE CHAMBERLAIN EXPLAINS THE SITUATION

Exchange-Equalisation
Fund Not Used For That Purpose
POSITION NEED CAUSE NO
UNEASINESS

London, To-day.
A strong denial that the Exchange Equalisation Fund had been used for the purpose of depreciating sterling, was uttered by Mr. Neville Chamberlain, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the House of Commons yesterday.
He said that it had never been used and never had been intended for the purpose of deliberately forcing sterling up or down. He declined to explain how the fund had worked recently since publicity would destroy its value; but added that there has absolutely nothing in the position of the pound which need give Britain a moment's uneasiness.
The pound bought exactly the same amount of goods internally as three years ago, he said. (Continued on Page 14.)

VOTE OF CENSURE Sir A. Chamberlain's Amendment

London, To-day.
Government supporters have handed in an amendment to the Labour vote of censure which is to be moved on Monday next, declaring that the House, faithful to its obligations to the country, and as a member of the League of Nations, and desiring to secure the limitation of armaments by international agreement, recognises that these objects cannot be attained by unilateral disarmament and approves the Government's policy as equally necessary for the defence of the people and the discharge of its international obligations.
The amendment will be moved by Sir Austen Chamberlain, supported by the Liberal-Nationals and National Labourites. — Reuter.

KWEICHOW'S URGENT CALL FOR ASSISTANCE

(From Our Own Correspondent)
Canton, To-day.
Following repeated requests by public bodies in Kweichow to participate in suppressing the Communists, the military authorities here are making preparations to move their two divisions in Kwangsi to Kweichow.
General Li Chung-jen, Commander-in-Chief of the Fourth Group Army, has telegraphed, however, to the public bodies in Kweichow, saying that he is unable to do anything, as his troops have been warned by the Nanking divisions in Kweichow not to proceed there unless, and until, the Central Authorities have issued orders to that effect. SIR MALCOLM CAMPBELL

HUEY LONG REPLIES

HUGH JOHNSON ATTACKED ROOSEVELT POLICY CONDEMNED

Washington, To-day.
"The White House has declared war on me," thundered Senator Huey Long, the so-called "Dictator of Louisiana," broadcasting a reply to the recent broadcast attack made upon him by General Hugh S. Johnson, former National Recovery Administrator.
He alleged that under General Johnson the National Recovery Administration "became such a national scandal that President Roosevelt was obliged to let him slide out as a scapegoat. What's the trouble with the administration of Roosevelt and Johnson and all their spoilers and spell-binders?"
"They think that Huey Long causes all their worry," he went on, "but this is not so. While millions have starved and gone naked, President Roosevelt's administration has sailed merrily along. It that government? There are more now workless than ever in the United States and the debt has gone up another $10,000,000,000," he concluded. — Reuter.

MRS. FRENCHAM SHOT DEAD

Reds Beat Husband To Death

Shanghai, To-day.
News has been received in Shanghai that Mrs. Frencham, who was a trained nurse, was shot dead when the Communists captured Ningkiang, in south-west Shensi on February 6, while she was attending the accommodation of the wife of a Chinese official. Her patient met the same fate.
Mr. Frencham himself was beaten to death when he resisted man-handling after being marched outside the walls of the town with the Chinese commander of the Ningkiang garrison, who was also shot. — Reuter.

MISSIONARIES MURDERED

London, To-day. — According to a Shanghai message, it has been discovered that the Australian missionaries of the China Inland Mission, Mr. and Mrs. Frencham, were murdered by Communist bandits when the latter attacked the town of Ningkiang, in the Shensi Province. — British Wireless Service.

The Japanese training squadron, comprising the Yakuza and the Azuma, which arrived in the Colony on Tuesday en route to Australia, are leaving to-day for Manila.

"BLUE BIRD ALMOST OUT OF CONTROL"

TWICE ENTERS SOFT SAND BELOW THE DUNES

LADY CAMPBELL THOUGHT HIGHER SPEED POSSIBLE

Daytona, To-day.
Reaching a speed of 281 miles an hour in "Blue Bird" and averaging 276.816 m.p.h. over the measured mile, Sir Malcolm Campbell, the famous British motoring ace, broke his own world land speed record of 272.108 m.p.h., set up in 1933, on Daytona Beach yesterday.
Sir Malcolm's time on the southward run was 13.2 seconds, which represents a speed of 272.727 miles an hour. His time on the northward run was 12.81 seconds, a speed of 281.03 miles an hour, giving an average of 276.816 miles an hour, as compared with his record-breaking effort of 272.108 in 1933.

Sir Malcolm's average speeds for the flying kilometre were 276.160 kilometres per hour; for the five kilometres 268.474 kilometres per hour; and for the five miles it was 251.398. These speeds broke all his former records.
Lady Campbell told Reuter's correspondent: "I am so happy he broke the record, but disappointed that he could not go faster."

WORLD'S LAND SPEED RECORDS
Set up by Sir Malcolm Campbell in "Blue Bird"
1931	245.7 m.p.h.

TRAGIC END FOR PARACHUTIST

John Trantum's Oxygen Supply Fails

London, To-day.
The death occurred at Copenhagen yesterday evening of John Trantum, the famous parachutist, who collapsed earlier while flying in an aeroplane at a great height, preparatory to making an attempt at the record for the "Delayed" descent by a parachute.
It is surmised that his oxygen supply failed. — British Wireless Service.

INTERNATIONAL LOAN TO CHINA

Kung Interviewed In Shanghai

Shanghai, To-day.
The National Government will naturally be glad to accept the financial assistance that friendly Powers proposed to render to China in the form of an international loan, declared Mr. H. H. Kung, the Minister of Finance, in an interview with pressmen to-day.

AMERICAN BELIEF

Washington, To-day. — Mr. William Phillips, Assistant Secretary of State, has made a statement to the effect that the United States has informed Britain that if China desires financial assistance America believes that the Powers should act sympathetically, the possibility of co-operative action.

Sir Malcolm Campbell said that he had one of the narrowest shaves he has ever had in his life when he was travelling northward. His tracks show that he came off the course twice and went up into the soft sand below the dunes; yet with marvellous presence of mind he kept the car under control both times, but he said that it was almost out of control.
Despite this he was as steady as a rock as he arrived at the Timing Tower and was swamped by friends and was greeted fondly by Lady Campbell and his daughter.
The Blue Bird's tyres were a sight to behold. — Reuter.

SLIGHTLY SPRAINED WRIST

Sir Malcolm sustained a slightly sprained wrist during the run when trying to force the gear-lever into top gear, but it is understood that the injury is not serious.
He was enthusiastic about the recent improvements to the car and said that the windbrakes and everything else worked splendidly, including the new strap to keep him firm in the car which he described as most effective.
This referred to the specially made belt fitted to the car because the state of the beach caused such violent bumping recently. — Reuter.

HITS BAD BUMP

Daytona, later. — "If I hadn't had a darned good car I shouldn't be talking to you now," said Sir Malcolm Campbell to Reuter's correspondent at the hotel after breaking his own record. "At one spot on the south measured mile on the north run, when my tyre treads started to go, I hit a bad bump and sailed through the air for 80 feet." — Reuter.

WEATHER FORECAST

The anticyclone has moved eastward and is now centred to the south-west of Japan, pressure remaining moderately high over central China. A depression appears to be moving eastward over the western part of the Gulf of Persia. The local forecast for to-day, as issued by the Royal Observatory, this morning, was north-east winds moderate, cloudy.

Some of the thousands of telegrams which successfully poured in on senators and representatives in Washington, protesting against American entry into the World Court of the League of Nations. The flood of demands that America should stay out of European entanglements was loosened by the radio prayer and plea of the Rev. Father C. E. Coughlin. Our photograph was taken at a telegraph office in the capital.

Washington, To-day.
After an animated debate in which Britain and Japan were mentioned as possible foes of the United States, the Senate approved an increase of the army from 138,780 to 165,000 men. — Reuter.

Hamilton Lewis Sees Menace In Orient

Washington, To-day.
During yesterday's debate in the Senate Senator William E. Borah declared that he did not fear a conflict with Britain or Japan and was of the opinion that there was no possibility of a conflict with Britain. "Why should she go to war with us when she secures everything she desires by diplomacy?" he asked.
He declared that Japan's policy was not directed against the United States. Japan's programme was "to extend into the Orient."
Senator Carter H. Glass agreed with Senator Borah that the United States was in no danger of attack, but Senator Hamilton Lewis, more pessimistic, asserted that the United States must prepare for menacing developments in the Orient, where Japan's activities were dangerous to the United States. — Reuter.

The Woman's Page

SUITING THE INDIVIDUAL STYLE

SHOWING HOW IT PAYS TO STUDY ONE'S TYPE

People have strange ideas about the clothes that suit them.

There is not the smallest reason why any woman with the money to buy even moderately good dresses should be unable to find the best ones for her particular type in this day and age. And this applies especially to evening dresses, which in many seasons are the most difficult of all.

Women who are not quite thin enough can choose the crinoline or robe-de-style type of skirt which does not demand excessively slender hips; and rejoice in the fact that their necks and shoulders are sufficiently well-covered to gleam above a strapless bodice in the best Victorian or early Edwardian manner.

On the other hand, those of us who are conscious of too little collar bone covering and skinny arms can indulge in romantic coats of sequins or chiffon or brocade; in scarves made of almost anything and worn in almost any way we please; in long and loose or in some way exciting sleeves or shoulder draperies; in ruffles of lace or flurries of tulle.

Why then, in the name of all that is rational does one see people in precisely the things they should avoid?

The Tall Girl's Problem

So often a very personable girl, already conscious of being rather too tall for comfort and not having as yet acquired the wisdom of carrying her height with distinction, insists on piling her long, fair hair high above her brow, so that it makes her look taller still, but not a whit more elegant. She should have no real difficulty in finding a way which would be quite as distinctive and much less height increasing.

The ubiquity of permanent waves and curls makes straight, smooth, shining hair something to welcome with relief. A too high forehead can be softened just as well with a fringe which is straight and feathered as with one which is a mass of riotous curls. The shape of the head can be just as cleverly enhanced with burnished coils as with waves.

All of which boils down to the fact that it is possible for anyone

VIA SIBERIA—Letters and postcards for Europe and South America are forwarded "via Siberia" if so superscribed.

REGISTERED and PARCEL MAILS are closed 15 minutes earlier than the time given above, unless otherwise stated, and where mails are advertised to close at or before 9 a.m., registered and parcel mails are closed at 5 p.m. on the previous day.

AIR MAIL—Imperial Airways via Singapore, Bandong-Amsterdam via Singapore, Saigon-Marseilles via Saigon.

Correspondence for Europe and intermediate countries will be accepted for transmission by these services.

Rates and all particulars are shown in the schedules exhibited at the General Post Office and Kowloon Office. All letters etc., must be marked "By Air Mail" and handed in at the General Post Office. Unless superscribed for despatch by a special air mail service, correspondence will be forwarded by the first service available.

to look quite different from everybody else and absolutely right at the same time.

Day-Time Discrimination—In this connection there is as much scope for good and bad choice for day clothes as for evening things.

There are high hats for those who need to add length to their faces, or their figures. Low hats for those who don't. Severe hats for clear-cut features, and for some that are not so clear-cut, too, to give them balance. Less aggressive shapes and fabrics for people who never feel happy in a hat that is uncompromising in line.

The closely fitted coats the trim and well-shaped can wear, and coats with loose backs, or in some cases coats with a cape, for proportions which need sartorial assistance.

Waistcoats, cut-away jacket fronts, and jabots increase the pliancy of some types and detract from the natural charm of others. A heavy fur collar and even a muff may look overwhelming on one woman, and yet serve to adjust the balance of another's silhouette in a most satisfactory manner.

There are a few rules which help. It is always wiser to exaggerate height than breadth. If one must exaggerate at all. It is generally more important to disguise a bad feature than to emphasize a good one: it is better still if it is possible to do both at the same time, of course. But on the whole, it is a matter of personal experiment and observation.

BLUE IN EVERY TONE IS TO BE SEEN

Exquisite Colours To Appear By Day

Blue in every tone is to be seen this season. The flower tones usually are used for picture frocks, the darker shades for more spickeen styles.

Navy with hyacinth blue is a very popular scheme. Feather patterned materials have taken the place of florals. They are usually appropriately trimmed with ostrich.

The little suit, absolutely plain, but cut with perfect lines, leads for daytime. This season exquisite colours will appear by day.

Your choice includes almond green, shrimp pink, hyacinth blue, or natural beige tones, and they are always worn with a darker-toned blouse.

LINEN HANDKERCHIEFS HAVE A "SPORTY" AIR

Linen handkerchiefs have a "sporty" air for tweed tailor-made and country suit pockets. Large checks and stripes, wide and narrow, in the gayest of softly contrasting colours are shown. There are many spot designs which are attractive in their colour schemes. There are "spot" centres in colour on a white ground with a rolled edge in the same colour. In another design the small spots are patterned in the corners.

NEW COLOURS IN HANDKERCHIEFS

London.

All the new colours are seen in the latest evening handkerchiefs, the delicate roses, blues and greens, the daffodil and primrose yellows, and the deeper purple reds and brown red tones. When it comes to design the colours are even more attractive in their artistic medley of flower patterns, in which the leading colours are usually chosen to tone with the dress. Both the plain silk georgette or chiffon and the floral designs are finished with an exquisitely stitched hand-rolled hem.

The correct size is about 19 inches square, and it is an easy matter to find fascinating remnants at the appropriate remnant counter for the home reproduction of these voguish dress accessories. To be professional looking, corners must be squared perfectly, and the stitchery of the finest points which will by no means deter many of the expert needlewomen of to-day.

Strange to say the initial, so popular in many other aspects of dress just now, seems to have deserted the handkerchief. Hand applied corners and drawn thread work and other forms of hand embroidery distinguish the latest designs.

EUKUTOL

THE BIOLOGICAL SKIN TONIC

BEAUTY nowadays is not just an accidental gift of nature; it can be attained also by well thought-out and systematic care of the body, that most exquisite and wonderful organization which has come to us from the Divine hand. And although beauty is more than skin-deep, a dazzling skin is indispensable to beauty. A few minutes devoted daily to the care of your skin will keep you young and supple, healthy and attractive. "Beauty and health are the chief sources of happiness," says Beaconsfield. But how, you ask, can I appropriate beauty? Our medical, chemical and cosmetic experts have solved the question for you, Madam.

The preparations forming the foundation for the Eukutol System are the outcome of years of scientific labour, of investigations into the natural requirements of the skin, into the active elements and nutrients needed by the skin for the unremitting renewal of its beauty. The Eukutol System is explained in a small booklet and when you have read it you will join the already vast ranks of Eukutol adherents. You will have every reason to be grateful for the results of the System. Make a beginning this very evening, with a free sample from all dispensaries and stores.

To Messrs. BORNEMANN & CO., Please send me, free of charge, one small booklet on the Eukutol System, and a trial tin of Eukutol, for which I enclose five cents in stamps to defray postage.

BRIDGE NOTES

A STRATEGICAL DOUBLE

by Ely Culbertson.

George Bernard Shaw in one of his plays represents Julius Caesar, when a lieutenant wished to tell him something that must not be overheard, as opening all the doors and windows so that no one would think of listening. Though I am not convinced that this method would work in all cases, nobody can deny that Caesar had the right idea in trying to anticipate the mental processes of those who wished to outwit.

In Bridge, as in other branches of warfare, one is concerned with this problem of psychological anticipation. The declarer, perhaps, will have to guess right in the matter of finessing. His guess, unless he is one of those Bridge mavericks who just guess, will be based on inferences drawn from the bidding. How can you make him guess wrong?

In the following hand the West player accomplished the desired result by throwing in a decoy double.

South, Dealer
East-West vulnerable

North:—
S—K 10 7 5
H—K 3
D—8 5 4
C—A 10 5 4

West:—
S—8 3

D—Q J 10 7
C—J 7 2

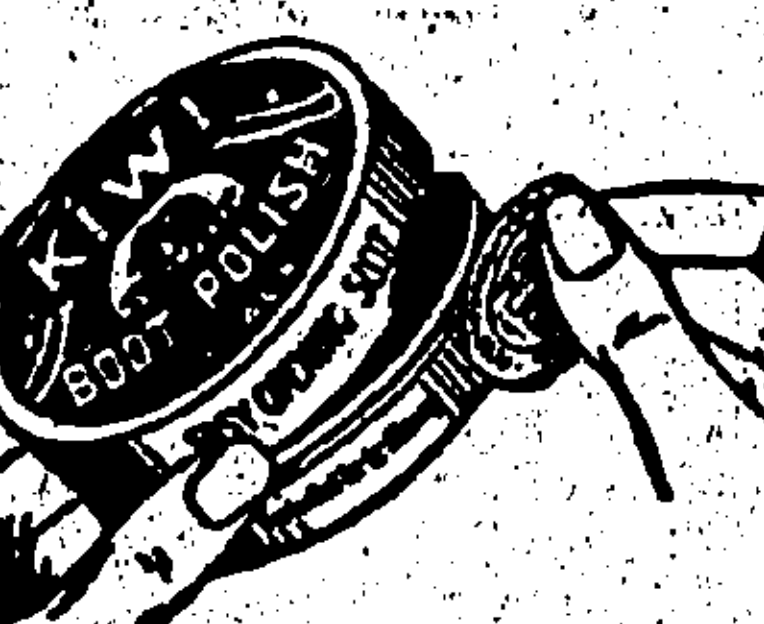

East:—
S—Q 4
H—A 8 4 2
D—8 6 3 2
C—K 8 5

South:—

H—J 10 5
D—A K
C—Q 9 8
The bidding:
South West North East
1 S Pass 2 S Pass
3 S Pass 4 S Pass
Pass Dbl. Pass Pass

The bidding is most illuminating. North's single raise on the first round indicates a maximum holding of four-and-a-half playing tricks, with probably no outside biddable suit and thus fairly balanced distribution. South was unable to bid game immediately and consequently has not a very strong hand. The contract therefore must depend upon the success of one or two finesses. If West, with his very weak hand, can cause South to place the outstanding strength with him, whatever finesses there are will be taken toward East and one or two tricks may be gained, sufficient to defeat the contract.

To see now West's strategy work—

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Chinese Emigrant To Singapore Arrested

ALLEGED JEALOUSY

A charge of manslaughter was preferred against Lee Man-nung, a Chinese emigrant, before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon.

It was alleged that Tang Kup, the victim, was bludgeoned with a heavy piece of wood by accused on board the s.s. Hong Peng while at sea on the way from Swatow to Singapore last month.

Mr. T. Murphy, A. S. P., said that both men with their women-folk were in a crowd of over 100 emigrants on their way from Swatow to Singapore. They occupied adjacent spaces over a hatch-cover, and it was alleged that during the night of February 26, Tang Kup molested the defendant's wife.

Beyond telling Tang Kup to desist, the defendant did nothing at the time. Two days afterwards, in the early morning, Tang Kup was found in an unconscious condition from head injuries.

The defendant was in an agitated state, and had a piece of wood in his hand. He was seized, and later turned over to the Police at Hong Kong.

Dr. G. V. A. Griffith, Government Medical Officer, who held a post-mortem examination, described the principal injury as a fracture extending across the cavity of the skull. Death was due to shock and haemorrhage from the injury. No external marks of injury on the scalp were found. In answer to a question, Dr. Griffith agreed the fracture was consistent with a fall on the deck. The case was adjourned.

PORTUGUESE LADY LAID TO REST

Many Present To Pay Last Respects

FUNERAL CEREMONY AT HAPPY VALLEY

The funeral of the late Mrs. Leopoldina Maria Natividade dos Santos, who passed away on Wednesday at her residence, No. 314 Prince Edward Road, took place yesterday at the Roman Catholic Cemetery, Happy Valley.

Deceased, who was the widow of the late Mr. A. M. dos Santos, was 75 years of age.

A number of the Catholic clergy including Mr. Henry Valtorta, with representative Sisters from the Italian Convent, were present to pay their last respects. The service was held by the Rev. Fr. G. M. Spada, assisted by Fr. A. Granelli.

Others present were Rev. Fr. Noval, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. J. Lopes, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Vieira, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Castro, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Capell, Mrs. Zimmerman, Miss C. Place, Miss E. Best, and Messrs. J. M. Alves, F. Cruz, A. P. Xavier, J. M. R. Xavier, J. A. Victor, G. M. Victor, C. M. C. Victor, F. K. V. Ribeiro, C. L. Lopes, V. F. Lopes, O. de Souza, J. M. Maher, L. Ribeiro, A. Lopes, and others.

od, consider how South, trusting the inferences of the double, planned his play. The diamond Queen was opened and won by the King. Now South, with balanced distribution, would ordinarily have played for the drop in spades. But it seemed that West must have held at least the promise of a trump trick in order to double, so South first played for the Queen to Dummy's K 10. Even when East grabbed up this trick with his Queen, South still had good grounds for believing the double. With the heart A Q, the club K J and the sequence in diamonds, which had already been shown by the opening lead, West might have made a gambling double because the bidding sounded uncertain. South therefore did not take a chance for the Queen of hearts by leading the Jack and playing low from Dummy. Instead he put up Dummy's heart King when West played low on the first bid of that suit, and East captured the King with his Ace, returning a heart for West to win with the Queen. South had now lost three tricks, two of them having been sacrificed through his failure in West's double. A club trick which South could not avoid losing to East's King, set the contract.

Careers Of The Stars

Toured the world including the Orient and Australia. Now one of the highest paid comedians in films and co-star with Bert Wheeler for R.K.O.

WILLIAM GARGAN was born in New York City in 1905. After a short career as a salesman went on the stage and his first hit was scored in "Aloma of the South Seas." First film was "Rain" with Joan Crawford, but later he scored in his original role with Leslie Howard in "Animal Kingdom." Recently made a film in England, and now one of the favourite leading men in Hollywood. Married and has one daughter.

MARY CARLISLE was born in Boston in 1912. Was a dancer before her first film in 1931. Has a contract with M.G.M. and is fast becoming popular with the film-going public. Unmarried.

JOE E. BROWN was born in Holgate, Ohio in 1892. At nine carried his living as a scrobbler in a circus, later turned to professional baseball, then to the stage, and later in a small part in a Radio film in 1928. Married and has three children. Has a tremendous following in the smaller towns of America, on the Continent, and in the Orient.

JANET GAYNOR was born in Philadelphia in 1907. Her step-father insisted she follow a film career instead of being a stenographer, and for that reason moved to Hollywood, where little Janet had great difficulty in obtaining a footing. From extra roles to Westerns, then the big chance under the direction of Borge with Charles Farrell (to whom she became engaged) in "Seventh Heaven." She is considered world fame, and is still considered to-day to be the biggest drawing-card in all parts of the world. Married a young lawyer named Lydell Peck, whom Farrell married Virginia Valli, but the marriage ended in divorce.—DIANE.

IN POSSESSION OF REVOLVERS

Arms And Ammunition Hidden In Pumpkins

CHINESE COMMITTED TO SESSIONS

For being in possession of two revolvers and five rounds of ammunition, concealed in two pumpkins, Tang Hing-cheung was committed to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions, by Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Central Police Court yesterday.

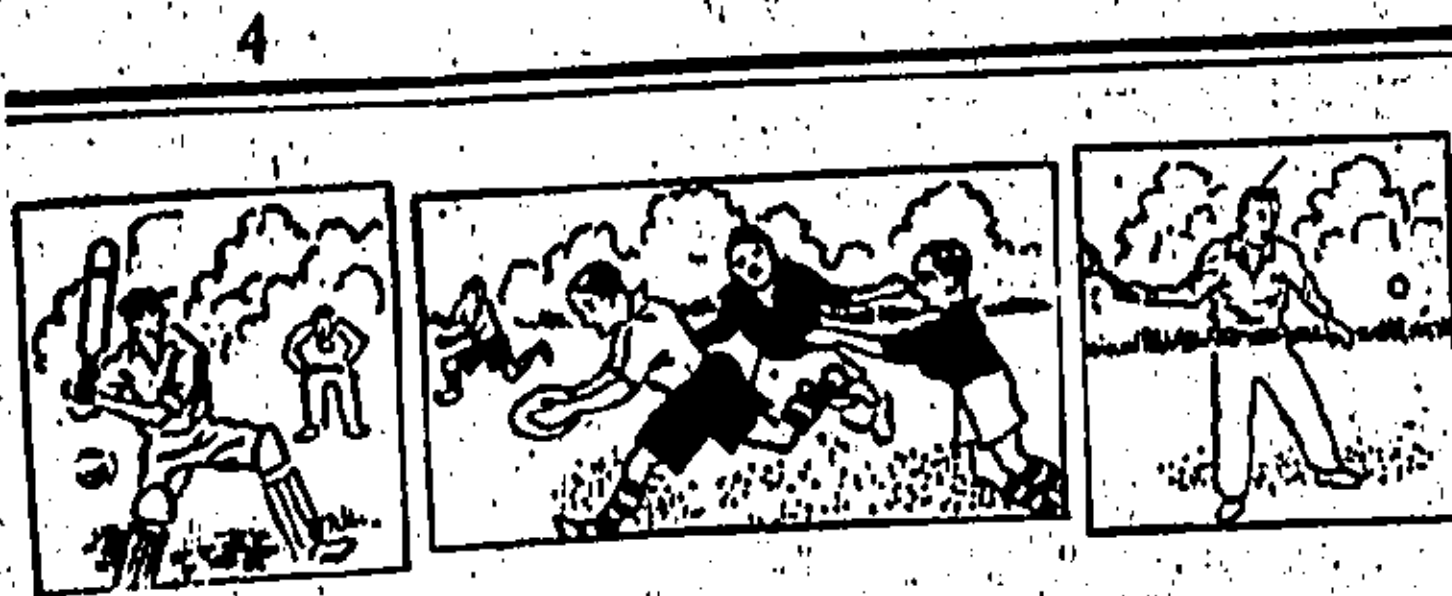

Detective-Inspector M. Murphy stated that on February 27, at 6.30 a.m. defendant was seen by Chinese Revenue Officer No. 25 walking down the gangway of the steamer on to the wharf. He was carrying two pumpkins, which attracted the suspicion of the Revenue Officer, as the tops of both seemed to have been cut. The defendant was detained on the wharf while Revenue Officer Major was sent for. Revenue Officer Major opened the pumpkins and found the two revolvers and ammunition.

Defendant said that the pumpkins were given to him by a clansman, who told him that he would meet him at the Yuen On Wharf.

FUSILIERS TO WIN SEVEN-A-SIDE RUGBY SERIES FOR TO-MORROW

CLUB v R. W. F. FINAL

(By "REFEREE")

The Club, and the Fusiliers "A" team are favoured to enter the Final of the Barney Stone Seven-A-Side Rugby tournament, the Second-Round, Semi-Finals and Final of which take place to-morrow afternoon on the Club ground, commencing at 4 p.m.

Among the distinguished guests who will be present are His Excellency the Governor, Sir William Peel and Lady Peel, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, the Hon. Mr. J. Owen-Hughes, Mr. V. M. Grayburn, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hall, Col. A. B. Hearle, D.S.O., Commander, Royal Artillery, Lieut. Col. A. C. Marsh, Commanding the 2nd Battalion, the East Lancashire Regiment; Captain A. R. Hammick, Commanding the Eighth Destroyer Flotilla, and Lieut. Col. C. C. Hewitt, D.S.O., M.C., Commanding the 2nd Battalion, the Royal Welch Fusiliers.

Judging from the First Round encounters, to-morrow's clashes are likely to reproduce all the thrills and excitement provided in the preliminaries last Wednesday.

Rigg, the Bank's right wing three-quarter, will be their most dangerous man, although Turner must be watched very closely.

Davies Dangerous

In the Fusiliers "A" team Davies and Floyd are their two most dangerous men, while their forwards are always likely to break away on their own. Barry and Morgan are two very good men who believe in getting the ball away to their wings as soon as possible. It would not surprise me in the least if the soldiers beat the holders in the semi-final and the Club in the Final.

In the Club side Munro is a very difficult man to grass, while Hutchison and Meeko must be watched at all costs.

STIRLING IN CLUB GOAL

Payne Rested After Being Injured

The Club juniors have only made one change in their team to meet Kowloon at Happy Valley to-morrow; I. Stirling, a newcomer, will be seen in goal instead of Payne.

As Payne has not yet fully recovered from the injuries he received some time ago, he is being rested this week-end.

Stirling played in goal for the Club seniors in the 1929-30 season when Rodger was Home on leave. Since then he has been in Canton where he has played for Shamen on several occasions.

The team is—Stirling; Ratton and Binnie; Hopkins, Nicholls and Fitter; G. Fowler, Fisher, Duncan, Williams and Sloan.

TAMAR BEAT R.F.A.

Vickering Top-Scorer At Valley

In a friendly cricket match yesterday afternoon at the Valley, H.M.S. Tamar defeated the Royal Fleet Auxiliary by 42 runs.

The scores were: Tamar—48 (Vickering 29, Thoburn 16, Quinlan 8 for 20, and Russell 8 for 5); R.F.A.—6 (Blacklock 11, Madhurst 7, Haines 4 for 12, Rose 3 for 3, and Oliver 1 for 3).

Guy Cheng, China's Davis Cup reserve, above, will meet Tsui Wai-pul, the Colony champion, in an exhibition match at the Chinese Recreation Club on Sunday afternoon (King's Studio).

GOVERNOR'S CUP

HONG KONG CHINESE AMATEUR ATHLETIC FEDERATION	v Hong Kong Football Association (Caroline Hill 4.00 p.m.)

SERVICE CORPS UNLUCKY

Held To Draw By 20th Battery

Deserving a far better fate, the Royal Army Service Corps were forced to share two goals with the 20th Battery, Royal Artillery, in the Small Units Football League yesterday afternoon, at Happy Valley.

The game was extremely keen and fast in the opening half, though both teams failed to score. About 15 minutes after the commencement of the second half, MacBride, the Artillery inside-left, gave his side the lead with a header, but a few minutes later Beasley, at centre-forward, broke through to equalise for the Service Corps.

Other football reports will be found on Page 12.

GOVERNOR'S CUP ON SUNDAY

ASSOCIATION FAVOURED AGAINST FEDERATION

RODGER WITHDRAWS: HOWE UNCERTAIN

(By "ROVER")

THE Chinese Amateur Athletic Federation are fielding one of their strongest teams on Sunday for their encounter against the Hong Kong Football Association at Caroline Hill in the Second Round of the Governor's Cup Competition, which is at present held by the Association.

"Darkie" Chan and Tsui Ah-fai, of the Athletic, have been included in the Federation side for the first time since they commenced playing for the Athletic, and these two players alone are likely to cause considerable havoc among the Association team.

George Rodger, the Club custodian, is unable to play for the Association as he is suffering from a hip injury caused by a kick, while Howe, the Club leader, is another uncertainty for Sunday.

In Rodger's absence Cocker, of the Navy, will fill the position between the sticks, while Elliott is the most likely selection for the centre-forward berth in case Howe is an absentee.

The Federation have dropped Lau Mau, the former Interport left-back, and have brought in Mak Siu-hon, of the Athletic, whose first-time clearances were a feature of the Athletic and South China "A" encounter three weeks ago.

The Chinese intermediate line is an excellent one, with Tsui Ah-fai in the pivot position and with Leung Wing-chui and Darkie Chan on the right and left flanks, respectively.

Wong Mei-shun has been dropped from the side, and Lee Shek-yau has been brought in on the left wing.

NEW CAPTAIN FOR R.A.F.

Beacham Stands Down In Favour Of Gregory

HARRIS INVALIDED HOME

This week the R.A.F. will take the field under a new captain. Beacham who has filled this role throughout the season, is standing down to make room for new blood, Brewer taking his place as left-back, and Gregory taking over the captaincy.

Those who have had the pleasure of playing against Harris, the Airman's versatile centre-half, will regret to hear that in consequence of the injury he received when he last played—some twelve weeks ago—he is being invalided Home. During the time he has spent in hospital his knee has made very little improvement, and the step is being taken in the hope that a change of air will help to affect the cure.

For this week's game against the Recreco, Gregory will fill the right-back position and Doggerty will play at inside-left. Peters, who is not altogether a newcomer, will be at outside-right.

The team is—Cairns; Cutter and Hickman; Boyd, Stewart and Tillery; Thomson, McDonald, Winch, Fuxham and Pereira.

MOSS AT BACK IN NAVY SIDE

Two Forward Changes

The Navy teams have been forced once again to make a number of changes for their fixtures against the East Lanes, and the Engineers.

In the senior eleven Moss replaces Godbear at left-back, and Baxter and Banstead come in at outside and inside-right, respectively, in place of Roberts and Kiley.

In the junior eleven Betts replaces Harris at right-back, and McLeod comes in at inside-right in place of Fassey.

The teams are—
1st XI—Cocker, Ryecroft, Moss; Hughes, McGuire, Love, Baxter, Banstead, Gray, Constable, and Skinner.
2nd XI—Phillips, Betts, Beard, White, Bowers, Wright; Dodds McLeod, Ryan, Bennett and Hinder.

NEWCOMERS TO EAST LANCS

THREE SUCCESSES EXPECTED

The East Lanes will be represented in all three divisions this week-end, and, although a number of their old players have left for Home, the newcomers are expected to give a good account of themselves before the season ends.

Hardy enters the senior eleven at inside-left. Crabtree and Johnson make their first appearances in the second eleven at left-half and inside-right, and in the third (Continued on Page 5)

BOYD RECALLED BY KOWLOON JUNIORS

Boyd, who was dropped last week for Sinclair, has been retained by the Kowloon juniors at right-half for their game against the Club in the Second Division at Happy Valley to-morrow.

The team is—Cairns; Cutter and Hickman; Boyd, Stewart and Tillery; Thomson, McDonald, Winch, Fuxham and Pereira.

S. A. and H. D. Rumjahn, the holders of the Colony Open Lawn Tennis Doubles Championship, entered the Second Round on Wednesday by defeating H. D. Tollington and C. Ravenhill by 6-4, 6-1. (King's Studio).

SAINTS CUSTODIAN SUSPENDED

Sequel To Incident In Game Against Kowloon

Tsang, St. Joseph's goal-keeper, who was given marching orders for striking G. White of Kowloon in a First Division League soccer game last week, has been suspended for the rest of the season by the Emergency Committee of the Hong Kong Football Association.

The Committee very much regretted their step, as it was Tsang's first season in local soccer, but are taking a very drastic view regarding incidents of this nature.

"GILBERT'S" WELCOME RETURN

(By "RAPIER")

I understand that, despite the presence of three Northern jockeys—Messrs. B. L. Tao, S. Y. Sun, and H. C. Pih—and the welcome return of Mr. Gilbert Harriman, following his enforced absence owing to an operation, there is likely to be a shortage of riders for the First Extra Race Meeting, which promises to be full of interest at the Valley to-morrow.

From what I can gather Mr. "Johnnie" Heard, Grand Old Man of the local turf, is unlikely to be in the saddle owing to the fact that he is leaving for Home very shortly, while Mr. Benny Proulx, who has just recovered from a bout of malaria, told me yesterday that he would not be riding to-morrow.

The meeting opens with a five furlong sprint for aubs. of any season. Cavalcade (Mr. Deitz) catches my eye for this event, closely followed by Delightful Chance and Helter Skelter.

To date I have not heard any jockey mentioned for Helter Skelter. Mr. "Johnnie" Heard, who has been riding and training this pony for the past 18 months, will not be taking this pony out, as he will not be seen in the saddle again this season.

Ythan Or Bonny Dundee

The "Lotterers" Stakes will probably be won by either Messrs. Mackie and Grayburn's Ythan or Dr. Macgown's Bonnie Dundee, as these are the two best ponies in the race and are definitely starting. So far it has not been decided who will ride them.

The only other pony in the picture is Mr. Eu Tong-sen's Diogenes which will be under the care of Mr. W. G. Poy.

FINAL INDIAN HOCKEY TRIAL TO-MORROW

GOLF NOTES

(By "NIBLICK")

THE first round of the Captain's Cup over the Kowloon course last week-end produced three surprise results. W. Hirst was literally played off the course by L. D. Purves, the card recording six up and five to play. This year's Junior Champion, W. Ahern, fell to J. G. Charlton by the margin of three and one, and G. Milne trounced Pat Taylor to the tune of six and five.

The course was playing "easy" and the greens (with the exception of the first) were in capital condition, proof of the efficacy of the new water sprinklers.

"HONG" FOURSOMES

EARLIER in the week the draw of the "Hong" Foursomes was published showing an entry of 16 "Hong", an increase of two over last year's entry. The holders of the trophy, Kowloon-Wharf and Go-down Co., are relying on the successful team of last year, A. E. Eastman and W. M. Groves, to "bring home the bacon."

It seems that competition will be much keener this year, two firms in particular being much stronger than usual; I refer to the Dairy Farm and Dodwell & Co. What a pity they meet in the First Round! Charlton and Collings are a strong pair, representing the Government Marine Surveyors—the latter is probably the most consistent golfer of the season.

On the whole I think that this competition will provide some very interesting matches, and it will be a braver man than I who would predict the finalists.

THE DRAW

THE following is the draw for the "Hong" Foursomes, the First Round of which will be decided on or before Sunday:

Whampoa Dock Co. (J. McKelvie and A. N. Other) v. Humphreys, Estate (A. J. Coates and A. Andrews).

Covt. Marine Surveyors (J. C. Charlton and R. Collings) v. Hong Kong Electric and Shanghai Hotels, Ltd. (F. C. Barry and E. O. Murphy).

Sanitary Department (T. Seddon and J. Gallati) v. Hong Kong Electric (W. Stoker and J. Way).

Falconer & Co. v. P.W.D. (W. C. Sim and G. Murphy).

Kowloon Godown Co. (A. E. Eastman and Groves) v. C. S. & A. Staff (W. Hirst and F. Angus).

Dairy Farm (J. D. Thomson and G. Milne) v. Dodwell & Co. (H. Mundy and A. J. Dennis).

Naval Yard (Henderson and Bonner) v. China Light & Power (W. Taylor and G. Angus).

INTER CLUB MATCH

THE Kowloon Golf Club will entertain Happy Valley in the not too distant future, and it is to be hoped that the Valley Club will send a really strong team "over the water."

Opinions are varied as to the merits of this bi-annual fixture, many players regarding it as a "social day," while others are keen on the winning of the match. There is quite a lot to be said for both viewpoints, but I think a goodly mixture of the "will to win" with the social spirit of a friendly game is the correct view to take.

The last few meetings have proved the mainland golfers to be superior, yet a reference to the Valley teams finds quite a few "tigers" conspicuous for their absence.

THE COUNTRY CLUB

THE following are the starting times for the Country Club's Ladies' Championship & Men's Foursomes on Sunday:

Ladies' Championship
10.28 Mr. A. J. Kay, Miss G. Almond
10.32 Miss M. Basto, Mrs. L. Caston

Men's Foursomes
10.30 Mr. E. L. Leitao, Mrs. A. E. Williams
10.40 Mrs. E. E. Remedios, Miss A. M. Williams

Men's Foursomes
10.44 H. G. Leong & C. E. Sun, E. D. Roze & A. E. Castro
10.48 J. J. Basto & L. D. Almeida, P. de Silva & E. Christensen

Men's Foursomes
10.52 A. W. Whitby & R. A. Basto, E. J. Leitao & F. E. Remedios
10.56 J. Kay & W. Kay, A. J. Gomes & W. G. Williams

The Hong Kong Hockey Club and the Army met in the final Triangular Hockey Tournament game on Wednesday, and a win for the Club by an only goal, scored by A. T. Lay, gave them the championship. (King's Studio).

PARKER EXCELS AT

LYTH SHINES FOR LOSERS

(By "STICKS")

In spite of a brilliant display given by Lovell, H.M.S. Dainty's custodian, the Police defeated the Dainty by two clear goals in their Mamak Hockey Tournament match on the Police Training School ground yesterday.

The Police played a very ragged game and it was only owing to continued pressure that they managed to break down the sound naval defence.

Parker, the Police inside-right, was the best forward on the field. Tate, the Police right-half, gave a very good display with neat and accurate forward passes, while Gough, the pivot, also played a steady game and assisted in most of the attacks. Playing for the second time at left-half, Moss was seen spoiling attack after attack and clearing with neat shots, his reverse stick passes being exceptionally strong.

Pennell Prominent
The forwards were again good, individually, but were unable to combine. Pennell on the right wing, played his best game for a long time, sending across some fine centres, his only failing being his unsteadiness at stopping the ball. Parker aided him well, feeding him with numerous passes. Perkins played a very hard game at centre forward but was unable to score.

RECREIO TEAM NOT COMPLETE

(By "STICKS")

Now that the Caer Clark Cup League has been concluded, with the exception of the play-off between the Hong Kong Ladies, the holders, and the St. Andrew's Ladies, most of the Clubs are taking an opportunity to experiment with their available players for next season, and in this respect it is noticeable that the "Y" Ladies have made several interesting changes for to-morrow's clash with the Recreio Ladies.

Miss McCaw, who usually leads the "Y" attack, is being played at right-back, where her speed and hitting powers should prove a useful factor in her play.

Mrs. Kayll makes her debut as the new centre-forward, while Miss A. Fowler will again fill the inside-left position.

The Recreio Ladies are holding the same team as last week with one exception—Miss Basto will be an absentee. The vacancy will be left open until the match.

The encounter takes place on the ground, commencing at 4 p.m. The teams are—

"Y" Ladies: W. George, P. McCaw and J. Wilson; L. Hickey, E. Thomson and B. Blumenthal; T. Dennis, S. Dalziel, Mrs. F. Kayll, A. Fowler and D. Brown.

Recreio Ladies: L. Barrow, C. Desmond and A. N. Other; W. Xavier, L. Xavier and E. Rosario; B. Remedios, C. Silva, L. Silva-Netto, A. Alves and M. Remedios.

SAINTS LUCKY TO HAVE PLAY-OFF CHANCE

RECREIO BACKS EXCEL IN THEIR SPOILING

(By "STICKS")
THE St. Andrew's Ladies were very lucky to draw their full-back.

Caer Clark Cup encounter against the "Y" Ladies last Saturday, in spite of having secured a three goals' lead at the interval.

Miss E. Thomson, in the centre-half position, played an excellent game and never left Mrs. White (Miss Woolley) once throughout the encounter. In fact, so well did she mark her opponent that Mrs. White was helpless in the last 15 minutes.

The "Y" halves played a very weak game in the opening half, and had only themselves to blame for the Saints' early lead. In the second stage of the game Miss Blumenthal recovered her lost form and played a spirited game.

Miss Gardiner was palpably weak at left-back, and was much too slow in tackling and recovering. She very seldom covered her colleagues, who as a result, was at six and seven during every one of the Saints' raids.

Miss Hickey Falls
Miss L. Hickey, player, her worst game of the season, and was never sure of her position or where to place the ball when in possession. She has rarely failed to shine this season.

Miss McCaw tried to make the most of her opportunities, but was very unlucky. Although very fast and having a powerful hit, I

MAMAK SHIELD DONOR PRESENTS UNIFORMS

IRELAND'S ENTRY NOW IN BALANCE

PROBABLES FOR ENGLAND SIDE

(By "STICKS")

THE final Indian International Hockey trial will be held to-morrow afternoon, on the Marina ground, where the Probable side will meet either the Hong Kong Singapore Brigade, Royal Artillery, or the Punjab Regiment.

A keen follower of sport in the Colony, and an enthusiastic supporter of India, Mr. S. S. Mamak has presented the Indian team with practically an entire new uniform, and the Indian eleven will wear a khaki coloured shirt with the word India, in yellow, running across the chest, while the stockings will also be khaki with yellow bands.

The following is the probable India side:—Nur Mohamed (Punjab); Kishan Singh (H.K.S.R.A.) and Khana Bahadur (Punjab); Tara Singh (H.K.S.R.A.), Dulla Singh (Punjab) and Aist Din (Punjab); Khuda Bux (H.K.S.R.A.), Dost Mohamed (H.K.S.R.A.) and Sarngat Singh (Raj); Gurbachan Singh (K.I.T.C.), Kartar Singh (Punjab) and Lal Singh (Punjab).

Reserves: M. Ramzan (K.I.T.C.) (Goal); Karnal Singh (K.I.T.C.) (Full-back); Bachan Singh (H.K.S.R.A.) (Half-back) and Aya Singh (H.K.S.R.A.) (Forward).

IRELAND AT STANDSTILL
Ireland have as yet no representative, for Lt. Ervine Andrews of the East Lancashire Regiment, who was going to be asked to take over the leadership, is leaving the Colony shortly.

There are about 200 Irishmen in the East Lanes and it will be a shame if they are not able to raise a team to meet India in the First Round on March 21.

Wales are not quite in the same position, although the Fusiliers are still at Camp and do not get back to Murray Barracks until Monday morning. Mr. G. T. Palmer, the Welsh representative, however, assured me that he would get in touch with the Regiment immediately and have a trial fixed for the coming week.

Portugal are not holding any further trials, but have not finally decided upon their team. I understand from Mr. Xavier, the Portuguese representative, that several trial teams will be pitted against other Clubs during the coming week.

I hear that H. Owen Hughes, the Club right-winger, has signified his intention of playing in the Welsh trials if asked.

ENGLAND TRIAL
England hold their first International trial on Sunday morning, and judging from the talent at their disposal, should be able to form one of the strongest combinations in the series.

Hollingsworth, of the Lincolnshire, is certain to be selected as the goal-keeper, while Metcalfe, of the Artillery, and E. V. Reed, of the Club, are the two probable backs.

Farmer and Bates, of the European Y.M.C.A., have been given trials, but of the two I think the former will get his place at right-half in support of W. A. Reed, who is a certainty for the pivot position. Williams, of the East Lanes, has an excellent chance for the left-half position.

S. Fowler, of the Y.M.C.A., will have to play at his best to gain selection for the right-wing berth, as May of the Signals is a serious contender.

Parker, of the Police, who is usually seen at left-half, will be seen for the first time at inside-right, the Second Round.

How far he will go in this position remains to be seen. Garthwaite, the Colony captain, is the most likely choice for this position; he has speed and stamina to last the pace when playing consistently well this season.

SENIOR ON SHIELDS
The choice of the centre-forward position lies between Rees and H.K. Rees (Holders) v. E. Ardlery to shoot, he missed no less than three sitters.

The naval team's outstanding player was Lyth, at centre-half, Lawson, at right back, was the mainstay of a good defence, being noted for his anticipation. Smith, the centre-forward, showed dash, but received very little support.

Early Goal For Police
The Police thoroughly surprised their opponents in the first two minutes when they forced a short corner, which resulted in a goal. Perkins stopping the ball just inside the circle for Wess to drive the ball waist high into the far corner of the net. It was not until near the end of the game that Parker netted the second goal.

Police: Jessop; Blackburn; Kuehl Mohammed; Tate, Gough and Moss; Pennell, Parker, Perkins, Wess and Kula Khan.

Dainty: Lovell; Lawson and Bennett; Pickett, Lyth and Wallace; Wills, Nell, Smith, Cresdee and Stephens.

FUSILIERS TO WIN
Bonnar can be relied on to keep the Club line safe as he is a deadly tackle and possesses an excellent pair of hands.

Medicals Should Win
In the first game to-morrow the Medical Corps should experience no difficulty in disposing of the Fusiliers "B," while the Club should enter the semi-final at the expense of the East Lanes.

The Royal Engineers should provide very stiff opposition for the Fusiliers "A," who will, however, probably outpace their rivals.

BALINESE DANCERS REAL ENTERTAINMENT

ALHAMBRA AND CENTRAL ENTERPRISE

ANNE HARDING AND MONTGOMERY IN UNUSUAL PICTURE

WHEELER AND WOOLSEY BACK IN TOWN

By Diane

IT is impossible for me to give you first-hand recommendation for the performance of the "Royal Balinese Dancers," who are honouring Hong Kong with a brief visit at the popular Queen's Theatre, but from what I read and hear, and what I have gleaned of similar dancing in Java, Sumatra, Siam, China, India, Burma, Egypt and Japan, I may feel a little qualified to advise a visit.

Here is all the mystic splendour of that beautiful island brought to our doors—Bali, the land of Beauty, the island of a thousand Temples—one of the few spots in the world that a wise Dutch Government is trying to keep from Western influence and thus retain the native fascination, music and charm.

There are 40 performers, headed by the premiere danseuse, Ratu Ida, and they bring the original Gamelan music, lavish settings, and even we lucky ones who have been privileged to see dancing in so many countries of the world, will appreciate the gorgeousness of the costumes. Here is a treat offered to us, that will not come our way for many a day.

From my standpoint, I have always found native dancing monotonous and a little is a feast, but this time, I am told, it is far more than mere posturing; there is a decided charm all its own, a sinuous and supple grace that is not easily forgotten.

Rich tourists pay thousands to go to Bali, we have Bali brought to us, so let us try and show our appreciation, not only to the Queen's Management for their courageous enterprise, but to the artists themselves. Here is rhythmic fantasy, and exotic and mystic creations staged in a spectacle that is entirely satisfying entertainment for all people of all lands. (Queen's).

"Biography Of A Bachelor Girl" Perhaps you will find it difficult to realise quiet, well-bred, Anne Harding in the role of a glamorous young lady with a past, studded with innumerable love affairs. We are so used to this golden-voiced, blonde beauty portraying the long-suffering heroine, but I, for one, appreciate M.G.M. borrowing Miss Harding from R.K.O., for the part that Ina Claire created so delightfully in the Broadway success.

We see her in a new light, we see a glimpse of her versatility, and we are thankful that she is given the chance to register something else besides anguish and suffering.

Also, perhaps you won't quite appreciate Robert Montgomery in horn-rimmed glasses (while at work) and a great deal of his smugness and winsomeness missing. But to make up for it, we have a grand cast and sophisticated witty dialogue.

Miss Harding is the type of notorious adventures who is continually stormed by news-hawks; when finances are low, bailiffs step in to remove her studio furniture, but the fair heroine has one card yet up her sleeve. The bright young Editor (Montgomery) of a magazine called "Every Week" will pay her $20,000 for her biography. The tragedy lies in the fact that it will harm the reputation of one of her past loves—Edward Everett Horton—now a candidate for the Senate. Mentioning his name in the biography must be stopped at all costs. The hero and heroine leave for a lonely mountain cabin to write in peace and quiet—I need not add that love creeps in at the door. The would-be member of the Senate and the fiancée (Una Merkel) follow, and this is the outline of the plot.

Horton is a pure delight—Miss Harding gives us something new for her at any rate—Una Merkel, Edward Arnold, Charles Richman, and the fascinating Montgomery lend grand support, and although the success of the film depends more upon good acting and talk rather than fast action, the wise ones would never miss seeing this sparkling entertainment. (Queen's).

"The Key" The background of this picture is Dublin in the throes of the Irish Revolution of 15 years ago. The scenario writer made the hero (William Powell) an impossible and insufferable swaggard, and Powell errs for once and exaggerates the part beyond reality. Colin Clive is the plain-clothes officer who risks his life indifferently and loves his wife indifferently. Edna Best makes one of her rare Hollywood film appearances as the girl who dreams of a month of romance with a story-book hero.

The suspense lies in the search for the leader of the revolution, but I leave you to find out for yourself. You may find this Warner Brothers' release of interest, but don't go expecting to see William Powell shining as he did in "The Thin Man" and "Evelyn Prentiss." (Alhambra).

"The Life Of Vergie Winters" At last Anne Harding has a story in which she can really act, and she makes the most of the part of "Vergie," the outcast, little dressmaker of a small town, who has an affair with the town politician. The story is reminiscent of "Back Street," but the acting and direction make the story, tender tragic and interesting to the melodramatic end. You will find the small town life and characters done faultlessly, and Anne Harding loses herself in the role of the humble outcast. I call this an intelligent picture. John Boles and Helen Vinson contribute outstanding characterisations. Not to be missed. (King's).

"Born To Be Bad" The title gives one an idea what to expect, and after we have just seen Loretta Young in "The White Parade," giving such a sincere, sympathetic, and appealing performance as the Nurse who sacrifices so much for her fellow creatures—I cannot help feeling a little sorry that this film should follow so soon on her other memorable performance.

I only read the other day of an interview with Miss Young wherein she stated that she only wanted to play good roles, so the powers that be at Twentieth Century gave her "Clive of India," and Lasky gave her "White Parade."

In "Born to be Bad," the so-called heroine with a grudge against life gives law and order no quarter and brings her small son up in the same tradition. The moral issues derived from this film are doubtful, and it is no wonder that the Purity League were against this particular type of story. Miss Young is not really capable of turning in anything but ture, and yet it is only one of many we are promised. Among them will be Dick Powell's latest with Ruby Keeler, "Flirtation Walk," Bing Crosby and Kitty Carlisle in "Have a Heart," and James Cagney in "Here comes the Navy."

Next week I will give more details of this startling new innovation, but the Hong Kong Amusements are most certainly to be congratulated and commended for showing such a marvellous "line-up" of the very latest successes.

ROBERT WOOLSEY

SHORT SHOTS

JAN Klepura's first film in Hollywood will be "The Count of Luxembourg," I well remember seeing the opening night, in Wien, of this musical comedy, and later on Lily Elsie played in it at Daly's Theatre.

Gertrude Lawrence and her "boy-friend," Douglas Fairbanks Jr., are at work at the B.I.P. Studio making "La Boheme," which Lillian Gish and John Gilbert played in the movies.

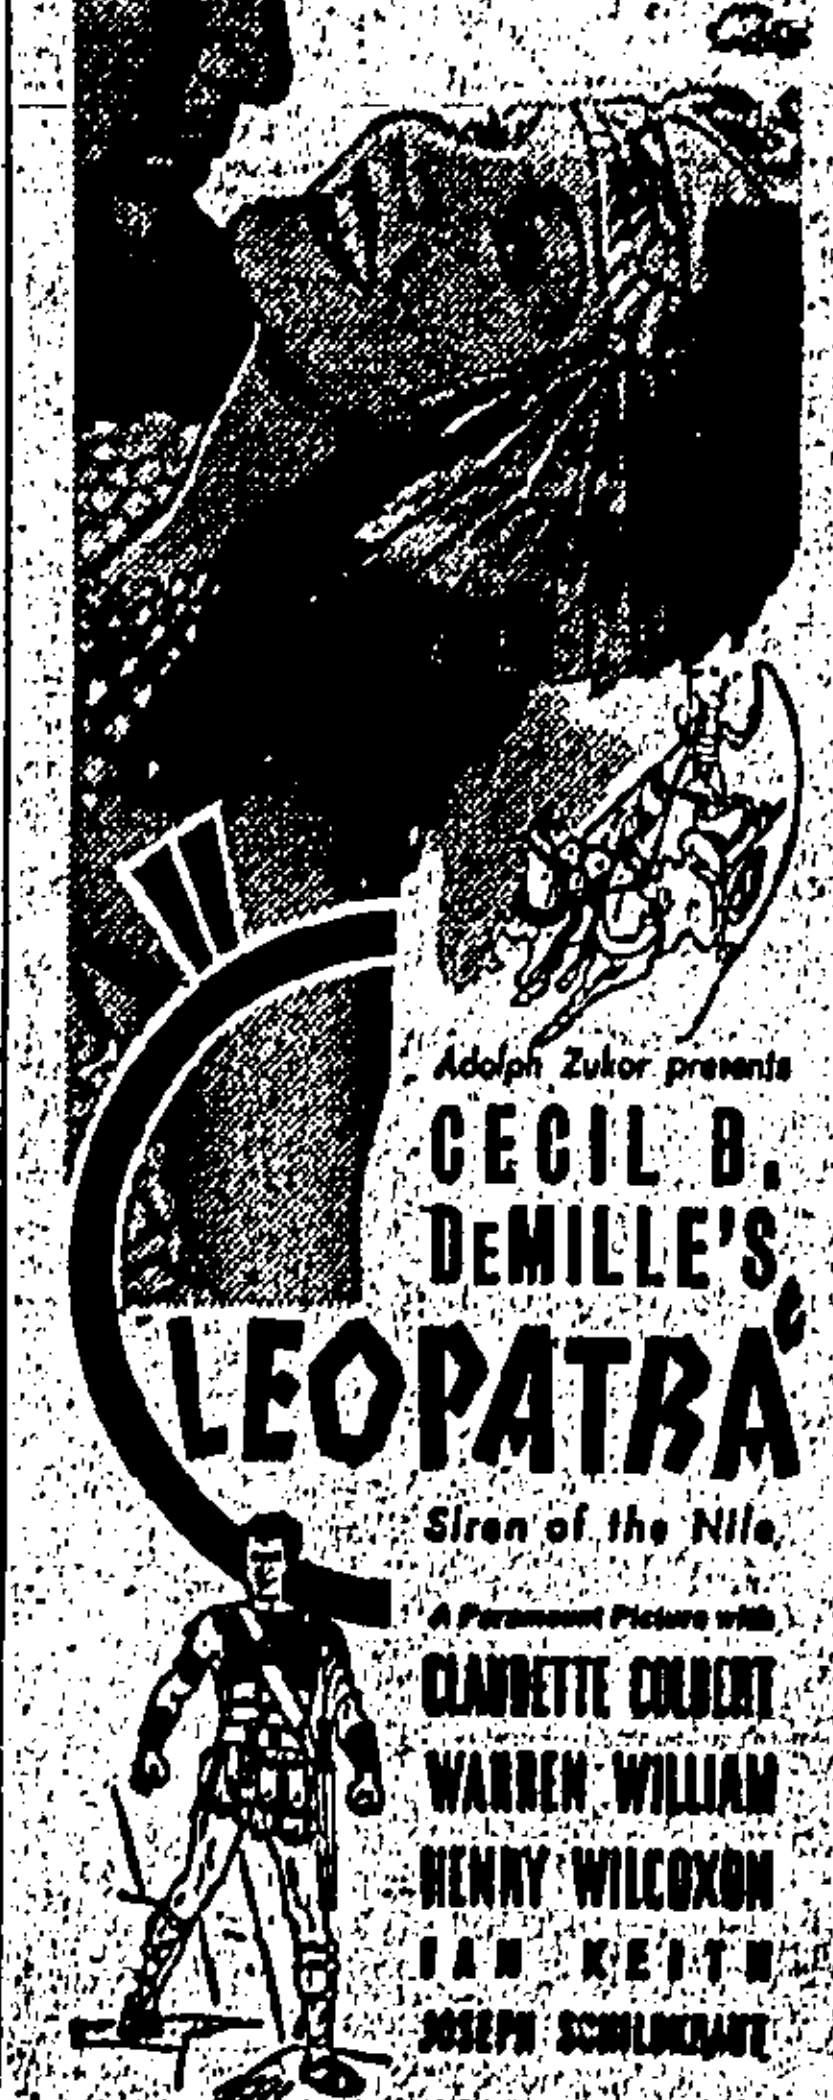

Tullio Carminati returned to Italy and made a picture after finishing "One Night of Love," but is now with Lillian Harvey again on the Columbia lot. Miss Harvey will later proceed to England, and is said to be in receipt of the biggest salary ever paid a visiting star. Her first for B.I.P. will be "Invitation to the Dance."

"Lives of a Bengal Lancer," the Yeats-Brown novel is being tremendously praised by the critics and the public alike. Garry Cooper, the star, has returned to the Sam Goldwyn lot to set with Anne Sten in "The Wedding Night."

Romour has it that Paramount, who release the Hecht-Mac Arthur pictures, do not want Noel Coward to act in films, but no reasons are divulged.

Jack Buchanan's latest, "Brother's Millions," cost at least $150,000, (Thornton Freeland directed it), but with heavy bookings the money will be returned tenfold. They say it is the best thing Buchanan has ever made.—DIANE.

Careers Of The Stars

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON, was born in Brooklyn, New York. Educated for Law at the Columbia University, but preferred the stage and Gilbert and Sullivan Operas. Started in the movies in 1923, and was in the first talkie made in England. Ran a highly successful Stock Company in Los Angeles before film work took up all his time. Now tremendously popular in comedy parts; possesses style unlike any other actor. Unmarried.

EDNA BEST was born in Hove in 1906. First big hit on the stage in "The Constant Nymph." Married Seymour Bead and had twin sons. Marriage dissolved and she married Herbert Marshall, whose success on stage and screen she shared for many years, till his enormous popularity in Hollywood and his love for Gloria Swanson separated them. They have one daughter. Miss Best acts now in films and on the stage in London, and Mr. Marshall remains in Hollywood.

Shirley Temple has the biggest role of her amazing screen career in "Bright Eyes," the new Fox Film production. "Bright Eyes" shows Shirley as the adopted angel of a whole aerodrome of fliers, with James Dunn as her most particular pal.

COLIN CLIVE was born in St. Malo, France, in 1900. Married French actress Jeanne de Casilla. Intended for an Army career, but an accident put a stop to it, and he went on the stage. Studied at the Academy of Dramatic Art, and later made his fame as "Captain Stanhope" in Journey's End on stage and screen.

JOHN MILIAN was born in Lead City, South Dakota. On the stage many years before becoming one of the screen's most consistent villains. Married the divorced wife of Creighton Hale, a film actor, and adopted his two sons. Also has one son.

ROBERT MONTGOMERY was born in Beacon, New York in 1904. The untimely death of his father—a President of a big Oil Concern—curtailed the College and Continental study planned for the 15-year-old boy, who had to earn his living, and chose the trying life on an oil tanker. Later, being keen on the stage, started as a property man, and finally became an actor which led to films and a chance with Joan Crawford who has helped so many to film success. Now one of the biggest box-office "draws" on the screen, and a star at M.G.M. Married with one daughter.

BERT WHEELER was born in Patterson, New Jersey. Sold news papers, then started a life in the theatre as prop boy, and later a prominent comedian. First screen effort with Bob Woolsey in "Rio Rita," which part he had played for years on Broadway. Married with one daughter.

ROBERT WOOLSEY was born in Oakland, California, in 1889. Started to earn his living as a jockey, but a broken leg put an end to this career, and he turned to the stage. (Continued on Page 8)

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey are with "Spanky" McFarland in the RKO comedy, "Kentucky Kernels," which is coming to the King's Theatre to-morrow.

Greece In Eruption

There must be a limit to the interest that the Hong Kong public may be expected to take in the details of the domestic affairs of distant countries; but any day we are allowed to read in the cable news of any breakdown of the rule of order. The consequence is that one gets the impression of a much greater restlessness in the world than is really warranted by the facts. Greece, for example, has recently been engaged in the almost impossible task of digesting, during a period of unexampled low prices for the country's staple products, no less than a million penniless refugees driven out of Asia Minor after the last encounter with the Turks. The assistance given by the League of Nations, acting through a very competent committee, both administratively and financially, was generous; and is one of the exploits which has reflected most credit on the League itself. That kind of half political, half philanthropic work is what the league does best, and it is far more beneficial to humanity than interference in purely political quarrels. There was also some alleviation of the task in the repatriation of Turks, or more strictly their transfer from their homes in what is now Greece, to what is now the Turkish Homeland of Anatolia. All this difficult work provided little that had "news value," but when we read of the rebellion of the enterprising M. Venizelos, and the bombing of rebel warships by loyal airplanes, it is only fair to remember that during the last ten years, no Government has had greater difficulties to face than the Government of Greece; and that it has, had on the whole, a wonderful amount of support from the general body of citizens. The recurrence of the familiar names of the Cretan capital, Canea, and the leader, Venizelos, is but another reminder that there is nothing now under the sun. The slow disintegration of the Turkish Empire, during the two generations that followed the battle of Navarino, in which the Turkish fleet was destroyed by the British and French fleets acting together in a genuine enthusiasm for the ideal of constitutional freedom, and liberation of subject races from alien rule, is too long a story even for a short summary; but the last pre-war stage was the revolt of Crete from the stern repression of their Turkish masters. It was then that the name of Venizelos acquired fame as the leader of the lovers of freedom, which his eloquent appeals and skilful diplomacy did nothing to dim. Turkish methods of dealing with rebels were never popular in Europe, and champions of the victims were a halo. The result was that a kind of "standstill" was established, with British warships anchored off Canea, and a small international force established on shore. Turks and Christians were alike enabled to pursue the ordinary course of their lives in peace, and the Governor under whose name orders were issued had to get approval for the drafts he submitted; but it was not till some years later that Crete became a part of the Kingdom of Greece.

To the recent history of that Kingdom the annexation of Venizelos was more important than the annexation of Crete. It was his powers of persuasion that caused the Versailles Congress to add Eastern Macedonia to the Greek territory, and that area is now the only part of the mainland that appears to be supporting him, probably from feelings of gratitude. In the intervening years we should have to place the first Balkan war, in which the Greeks in alliance with the Bulgarians and Serbians drove the Turks back to the "Chatalja lines" only a few miles from Constantinople, and the Second Balkan War in which the Allies fought each other, and the Turks won back Adrianople. Hardly had these distressful countries had a breathing space when they were called upon to choose sides in the World War, through the Austrian invasion of Serbia, and the Bulgarian alliance with Germany. Venizelos was "pro-ally," in opposition to the King, who was not only the Kaiser's brother in law, but also had the solid grievance that Russia, absolutely refused to agree to a Greek campaign aimed at Constantinople, from which both Russia and Greece had derived their cultures. Anyone who wishes to read a vivid and slight, but sardonic account of Levantine diplomacy should get Compton Mackenzie's account of his war service in the Diplomatic Service. It is not often that a skilful and dramatic novelist is pitchforked into that secluded enclave.

Like many other countries Greece is at present in default on the interest due on her national debt; but that is not likely to give her politicians any wakeful nights. The trouble is that free speech is so unpopular with Governments. The Prime Minister resented the criticism of the leader of the Opposition, and declared Martial Law in order to suppress it. M. Venizelos thereupon organised a rebellion against Martial Law and in favour of free speech. The next step, of course, is for the Government to bomb such of its own warships as are in sympathy with the Opposition. We seem to have heard of something very similar in our own neighbourhood.

MADEIRA'S PEACE DISTURBED

A recent telegram from Madeira stated that a man had been arrested there (on the charge of abducting a White Russian general in Paris four years ago).

This is an event for that kindly comical island, nominally Portuguese territory, but chiefly run by a benevolent oligarchy of British residents.

The comfort and prosperity of the British are so carefully looked after that the "revolution" of 1931 made little or no difference. Mr. Stephen Gaselee, the Foreign Office Librarian wanted to go to a shop in a street which was barred at either end with rival barricades. He explained this to the revolutionary commander at his end of the street. The white flag was raised, the situation explained, and the battle suspended until Mr. Gaselee had finished his shopping.

OLDEST REGIMENT

Comments on the antiquity of the Scots Guards are interesting but dangerous.

This question of antiquity is a sore point with more than one British regiment.

The Buffs, who, like the Scots Guards, were "Hollandised," claim that they have cast-iron proof that they are the oldest regiment in the British Army.

This much may be said in the Scots Guards' favour. There exists in the War Office records an old instruction dating back to the early part of the eighteenth century.

It is to the effect that the established precedence of the older regiments of infantry must never be altered or even examined, lest the Scots Guards should assert a right to the highest place.

A fond father went to a college to see what progress his son was making. In response to his inquiry, the principal said, "Your son will probably go down in history."

Mixed Metaphors
At a political gathering, an orator waxed indignant and exclaimed: "To ridicule the idea is to follow the example of the camel, which buries its head in the sand when an enemy approaches."

The rival speaker rose and retorted: "Surely the gentleman, in giving utterance to this remark, must have meant to refer to the ostrich, which in those circumstances has a habit of putting its eye through a needle."

CUSTOMS OF THE HOUSE OF LORDS DATING BACK TO THE PLANTAGENETS

"THE KING IN PARLIAMENT"

(By Dingle Foot, M.P.)

THERE is no mystery about the House of Commons. Not only are its proceedings regularly described in the newspapers, but almost every day during the Parliamentary session, droves of constituents are ushered round the precincts by their outwardly delighted representatives.

They are herded down into the crypt where Cromwell once stabled his horses; they peep through a glass door at the loops of pink tape in which members may leave their swords before entering the chamber; and, if the House is not actually sitting, they inspect the dents in the despatch-box inflicted by the signet ring of Mr. Gladstone.

No doubt they return to their shires and cities with a fine sense of the historical continuity of the Commons House.

Much less is heard of the older and more picturesque assembly at the far end of the corridor. Its debates, which, as the Archbishop of Canterbury recently remarked, "frequently enlighten but seldom sparkle," generally escape the attentions of the Parliamentary sketch-writer. Moreover, the peers, having no electors to conciliate, are less given to acting as lecturers and guides.

Abbot And Prior

Yet their rules and customs are of even greater interest than those of the Lower House, forming as they do a link with the beginnings of Parliament in the days of the Plantagenet Kings. In fact, the procedure in the House of Lords provides perhaps the most striking example of the English genius for introducing new content into old forms.

This historical aspect is most apparent when the Commons, headed by the Speaker, are summoned to the bar of the House of Lords to hear the Royal Assent to bills that have passed both Houses. His Majesty is represented by the three Lords Commissioners, who sit upon the "Wool-sack," and the gathering now assembled is "the King in Parliament," the sovereign authority of this land.

It is a reflection of the ancient "Common Council of Our Realm" which is mentioned in Magna Carta, and which under Henry III. and Edward I. gradually assumed the name of Parliament.

The Lords Spiritual and Temporal would be seated then as they are now (though the number of the former would be greater by the addition of the priors and abbots who have now disappeared), and crowded at the end of the chamber would come the knights, citizens and burgesses. These last were not, as a rule, entitled to take an individual part in the proceedings, but expressed their collective view through the mouth of one of their number, designated the Speaker.

The Commons' Origin

The liberty of speech claimed by the Speaker in the Middle Ages, which he still claims at the outset of each Parliamentary session, was for himself alone, and referred to the common sessions in the Parliament Chamber.

The House of Commons originated, indeed, as a sort of secret committee of Parliament. In or about the reign of Edward II. the knights, citizens and burgesses took to conferring among themselves in the refectory of Westminster Abbey. Later they moved to the Chapter House, but it was not until 1547 that they took up their quarters in St. Stephen's Chapel within the walls of the Parliament building.

It may be observed in passing that, strictly speaking, the Commons still meet in secret. Visitors are admitted only as a matter of grace, and at any moment a member who chooses to "upbraid" can have the galleries cleared, even the newspaper representatives and peers sharing in the general exclusion. The Lords, on the other hand, have no such power to "upbraid." They may, indeed, clear their galleries, but they cannot prevent members of the Lower House, who are also Privy Counsellors listening to their debates from the steps of the Throne. For the Privy Counsellors, like themselves, are his Majesty's advisers, and they cannot, therefore, be excluded from the Commons Council of the Realm.

Asperity Of Speech

Though they stand within the four walls they are not, be it observed, within the House of Lords. The House itself ends in an imaginary line which excludes both the Wool-sack and the Throne. The arrangement is not so illogical as it seems. Two persons only may take part in the deliberation of the Upper House without actually being peers. They are the King and the Lord Chancellor (who may be, and twice has been, a Commoner) and neither of them requires to trespass upon the actual territory of the House.

To the traditional rules of procedure of the House of Commons there have been added numerous devices for suppressing disorder, expediting business and overcoming obstruction. Recalcitrant members may be named and suspended, and debate is frequently cut short by the use of the guillotine and kangaroo closure. In the calmer and more leisurely atmosphere of the House of Lords such expedients are scarcely ever needed.

In fact, on the rare occasion when a noble lord so far forgets himself as to exceed the limits of decorum the only remedy which the rules provide is for the Clerk to read the Standing Order relating to asperity of speech. It is pleasant to be able to record that this proceeding has never failed to produce the desired effect.

Peers' Revolt

There was, indeed, an rebellion in the eighteenth century when the dignity of the Upper House was gravely disturbed. The fault, however, lay not with the peers, but with the "peers' peers." In 1733 the House decided that women should be excluded from the debates and the galleries reserved for the exclusive use of the House of Commons.

SUMMONED BY MISTAKE

Lye Mun Skipper In Court

Appearing before Mr. A. W. G. H. Grantham at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning Capt. B. Holmes, master of the s.s. Lye Mun, who was summoned for allowing cargo to be worked on the ship on Sunday, February 24, without a permit from the Harbour Master, was dismissed as there had been some mistake made.

In answer to the summons Capt. Holmes stated that they had had a permit to work up to 6 p.m. but at 4:30 p.m. on the same afternoon when they saw that they could not possibly finish the loading in time they got in touch with the Water Police Station where the Sergeant on duty told them that it would be all right.

Sub-Inspector Wright, who was in charge of the prosecution, asked Mr. Grantham to withdraw the summons as there had been some misunderstanding.

"I have been incarcerated three times in my life."
"Against what?"
"Against my will."

The Provincial Department of Civil Affairs, since being given the task of civilizing the Li tribe in Hainan Island, after the abolition of the post as Li tribe governor, has decided to establish three more counties in the aborigines' areas for handling civil affairs.

According to the plan already formulated by the Department, the three new counties are called Lok-on, Pao-ting, and Pei-sha, in each of which a magistrate, four assistants, three technical men, four business officers, four police officers, and 40 policemen will be appointed. The monthly expenditure of each county is estimated at $1,700.—Central Press.

Three Men Identified By Wounded Woman

COMMITTED TO SESSIONS

Charged with the murder of Chan Tai, a fisherman, on board a fishing boat off Castle Peak, New Territories, on January 15, three Chinese, Chan Chao, Ho Wing, and Kwok Kan-hel, were committed for trial at the next Criminal Sessions by Mr. A. W. G. H. Grantham at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday.

Mr. W. J. Lockhart-Smith, the Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted.

Mr. T. Murphy, A. S. P., gave evidence of an identification parade held at the Kowloon Hospital, on February 2, in which Leung Kam who was wounded in the attack identified first defendant as the robber who forced her husband into the boat and struck him with a revolver.

ANTHONY EDEN ON WHITE PAPER PROPOSALS

REDUCTION IN ARMS ILLUSTRATED

COLLECTIVE PEACE SYSTEM AS MEANS OF SECURITY

London, To-day.

Mr. Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal, referred to the recent "White Paper" on defence in a speech delivered at Swindon last night.

He declared that there was no security in armaments comparable with that which could be derived from the effective working of a collective peace system and that the foreign policy of the British Government was unalterably based upon the League of Nations as being the most effective mechanism yet devised to operate such a system.

The moderate measures of national defence, provided for in "White Paper," did not constitute in themselves any departure from that policy, while the British Government's devotion to the League and to this collective peace system had recently been many times demonstrated, he continued. Nevertheless, peace could not be fully assured until all nations were members of the League and were inspired in their national policy by the spirit of the covenant.

EVOLUTION STATE

The truth was that this collective system was at present in a state of evolution, and until all the nations were moved, equally, to co-operate in the working of that system those Governments who believe in it have an obligation, not only towards one another, but towards their own people to take elementary precautions. The British Government were at present endeavouring to bring about a settlement to meet the nervousness which had certainly increased in Europe during the last few years. Fears, suspicions, and ambitions, which darkened Europe's political horizon, were of immense significance to the British people.

Science had modified Britain's geographical isolation and the consequence of European events were felt more directly, although the political outlook of the British people had not as yet undergone any similar change. The spirit of comparative detachment which survived from the days of their isolation enabled them better to contribute to pacification, which was as much in their own interest as in that of any continental nation.

BRITAIN'S REDUCTIONS

While increasing anxiety had meant increasing armaments in many countries of Europe and elsewhere, Britain's armaments, compared either with immediate the post-war period or the period before the war, showed a reduction. As an example Mr. Eden stated that the tonnage of the British Navy in 1914 was 2,160,000 tons and was now 1,180,000 tons, while the personnel had been reduced from 152,000 to 92,338. At the end of the war Britain had the greatest air force, but now she came only fifth among the air powers. The British Army was little more than a police force.

The truth was that the expenditure on the present proposals involved was due to the fact that elementary measures of national defence had been delayed in the hope that an international agreement would eventually make them unnecessary. He emphasised that if the international situation is modified these defence measures can be modified also.—British Wireless Service.

$92,000 FOR DEFENCE OF CIVIL POPULATION

London to-day.—A sum of $92,000 is included in the 1935 estimates of the Home Department, for expenditure on the defence of the civil population against air raids.

A provision is included for respirators for special air raid personnel, research, and experimental service.—British Wireless Service.

MR. CHEN ARRIVES IN COLONY

Inspector Of Chinese Consular Service

REFUSES TO COMMENT ON MR. HU'S CRITICISM OF NANKING POLICY

Mr. Chen Chun-po, Inspector of Consular Service of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, arrived in the Colony this morning by the s.s. Chitral. Mr. Chen, who is on his way to visit the Chinese consulates in Malaya, was met by members of the local Chinese Teachers' Association, they included Messrs. Chan Tik-yik, Ho Yin, Philip Tee, and Tang Chiching.

Mr. Chen told the China Mail that the Chinese Consular Service was improving on the whole, but that there was still a great deal of progress to be made.

Mr. Chen, who will wait in the Colony for the arrival of Mr. L. Chang, another Inspector of the consular service, before leaving for Singapore, said that he hoped that during the tour they would be able to do something towards improving the trade conditions between China and the southern islands.

Mr. Chen refused to make any comment on Mr. Hu Han-min's recent criticism on the Nanking Government. "I am not in a position to make any comment, and Mr. Hu is still a C.E.C. member of the National Government," he said.

During his stay here he will visit the different Chinese schools in the Colony. He will be the guest of honour at a dinner to be given by the Mui Fong Girls' School to-night at 7 o'clock.

JUDGMENT AGAINST FRENCH BANK

Mr. Eldon Potter, K.C., and Mr. F. C. Jenkin, K.C., instructed by Mr. D. J. Lewis, appeared for the plaintiff firm, while Mr. H. G. Sheldon, K.C., and Mr. Duncan McNeill, instructed by Mr. E. Davidson, represented the defendants.

In their statement of claim the plaintiffs set out that they had suffered damage by the defendants through being wrongfully deprived of various cashier orders.

SPECIAL RESOLUTION

By a special resolution of May 28, 1928, amending the Articles of Association, it was provided that the carrying on of the business of the company be entrusted to the general manager assisted by the assistant general manager. A man named Lau Ping was appointed the first general manager of the firm. Lau Ping also became manager of the Hon Ping Trading Company and opened an account in their name with the Banque Franco-Chinoise. In September, 1932 Lau Ping disappeared and the Hon Ping Trading Company ceased to function. It was later discovered that Lau Ping had paid into the account of the Hon Ping Trading Company cashier and comrade orders, the property of the Sandalwood Association.

JUDGMENT PASSED

In passing judgment His Lordship said "I find that the defendant bankers were guilty of conversion of each of the orders sued upon and there will therefore be judgment for the plaintiffs with costs. I direct an enquiry to determine whether any part of the proceeds of the converted orders was applied in the payment of the liabilities of the plaintiff company, and if so under what circumstances, and to the extent to which the proceeds were so applied the prima facie measure of damages, the face value of the orders, must be reduced."

Nanking reports, always minimising the seriousness of the situation, stated that Tungzu has been recaptured by Szechuen troops which were rushed down from the North.

Press dispatches from Kweichow have it that the Reds are crossing the Wujiang River in an attempt to capture the provincial capital, which is defended by Nanking troops under General Hsueh Yoh. Kwangtung and Kwangsi troops will proceed to Kweichow only after approval is received from the Nanking Military Commission.

To-day's Short Story.

Turnabout Is Fair

By D. H. Lawrence

SHE was his second wife, and so there was between them that truce which is never held between a man and his first woman.

He was one for the women, and as such an exception among the colliers. In spite of their prudery, the neighbour women liked him; he was big, naïve, and very courteous with them; he was so, even to his second wife.

Being a large man of considerable strength and perfect health, he earned good money in the pit. His natural courtesy saved him from enemies, while his fresh interest in life made his presence always agreeable. So he went his own way, had always plenty of friends, always a good job down pit.

He gave his wife thirty-five shillings a week. He had two grown-up sons at home, and they paid twelve shillings each. There was only one child by the second marriage, so Radford considered his wife did well.

Eighteen months ago, Bryan and Wentworth's men were out on strike for eleven weeks. During that time Mrs. Radford could neither cajole nor entreat nor nag the ten shillings strike-pay from her husband. So that when the second strike came on, she was prepared for action.

Radford was going, quite inconspicuously, to the publican's wife at the "Golden Horn." She is a large, easy-going lady of forty, and her husband is sixty-three, moreover crippled with rheumatism. She sits in the little bar-parlour of the wayside public-house, knitting for dear life, and sipping a very moderate glass of scotch. When a decent man arrives at the three-foot width of bar, she rises, serves him, surveys him over, and, if she likes him, looks, says:

"Won't you step inside, sir?"

If he steps inside, he will find not more than one or two men present. The room is warm, quite small. The radford knits. She gives a few polite words to the stranger, then resumes her conversation with the men who interest her most. She is straight, highly-coloured, with different brown eyes.

"What was that you asked me, Mr. Radford?"

"What is the difference between a donkey's tail and a rainbow?" asked Radford, who had a consuming passion for conundrums.

"All the difference in the world," replied the landlady.

"Yes, but what special difference?"

"I'll have to give it up again. You'll think me a donkey's head, I'm afraid."

"Not likely. But just you consider now, wheer..."

The conundrum was still under weigh when a girl entered. She was swarthy, a fine animal. After she had gone out:

"Do you know who that is?" asked the landlady.

"I can't say as I do," replied Radford.

"She's Frederick Pinnock's daughter, from Stony Ford. She's courting our Willy."

"And a fine lass, too."

"Yes, fine enough, as far as that goes. What sort of a wife'll she make him, think you?"

"You just let me consider a bit," said the man. He took out a pocket-book and a pencil. The landlady continued to talk to the other guests.

Radford was a big fellow, black-haired, with a brown moustache and darkish blue eyes. His voice, naturally deep, was pitched in his throat, and had a peculiar tenor quality, rather husky and disturbing.

He modulated it a good deal as he spoke, as men do who talk much with women. Always there was a certain indolence in his carriage.

"Our master's lazy," his wife said. "There's many a bit of a job wants doin', but get him to do it if you can."

But he knew he was merely indifferent to the little jobs and not lazy.

He sat writing for about ten minutes, at the end of which time he read:

"I see a fine girl full of life. I see her just ready for wedlock, but there's jealousy between her eyebrows and jealousy on her mouth. I see trouble ahead. Willy is delicate. She would do him no good; she would never see when he wasn't well; she would only see what she wanted."

So, in phrases, he got down his thoughts.

He had to fumble for expression and, therefore, anything serious he wanted to say he wrote in "poetry," as he called it.

Presently the landlady rose, saying:

"Well, I'll have to be looking after our master. I'll be in again before we close."

Radford sat quite comfortably on. In a while he too bade the company good-night.

TO-MORROW'S STORY

To-morrow's story will be "The Ringed Word," by T. O. Beacheroff.

When he got home at a quarter past eleven his sons were in bed and his wife sat awaiting him. She was a woman of medium height, fat and sleek—a dumpling. Her black hair was parted smooth, her narrow-opened eyes were sly and satirical; she had a peculiar twang in her rather sneering voice.

"Our missus is a puss-puss," he said easily of her. Her extraordinarily smooth, sleek face was remarkable. She was very healthy.

He never came in drunk. Having taken off his coat and his cap, he sat down to supper in his shirt-sleeves. Do as he might, she was fascinated by him. He had a strong neck, with the crisp hair growing low. Let her be angry as she would, yet she had a passion for that neck of his, particularly when she saw the great vein rib under the skin.

EUROPEANS FINED

Summoned for driving in Queen's Road, between Arsenal Street and the Monument, which was temporarily closed to traffic on February 23 during the Race Meeting, Messrs. A. E. Medina, R.A., A. Nicoll, W. J. S. Key and F. G. Maunders were fined $5 each by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy this morning.

For irritable Children

In the "Strand Magazine" of March 1933, the well-known food expert, Miss Kathleen Dane, writes:

"Many children of the irritable, nervous type, owe their state to a deficiency of organic salts, particularly calcium, notwithstanding the fact that the dietary appears to be properly balanced. Such youngsters do well when the diet is reinforced by a well-retained mineral food, such as 'Kalzana,' which medical men all over the country are now recommending."

Your quickly-growing child needs extra calcium to help the formation of straight bones, healthy teeth, and a strong constitution. Start your boy or girl on a course of Kalzana—you will be surprised at the all-around improvement Kalzana effects. Irritability disappears, appetite returns and soon the formerly "difficult" child will be a happy, healthy youngster again.

EPIC CLASH FORESEEN

The "All Out" Stakes, should provide a very fast time as Oak Bay (Mr. Frost) will be starting, and Mr. Dynasty's Hetman, under Mr. Butler, will have to go some to beat the Dunbar entry. Don (Mr. Deltz) or Mayflower (Mr. Sun) will probably have a stern tussle for the minor position.

Got That Favoured

The "Randwick" Plate should be won very comfortably by Mr. Harold Seth's Got That, which will be out under the care of Mr. Deltz. Mr. Why's Goldsmith will be taken out by Mr. Frost, and I don't think he will have any difficulty in securing second place, while Snowy River (Mr. Davis) should fill third place in the small field.

A large entry makes the Tytam Handicap "A" Class a very difficult race to judge. My selection, however, is Mrs. Mackie's Invermark (Mr. Frost), or Mr. Li Po-chun's Propitious Time (Mr. Deltz). Invincible Knight, under Mr. Sun, will be a danger. A good outsider to watch in this race is Belmont Star.

Herod's Big Test

The Hong Kong Handicap "A" Class should result in a very good finish. Soldier of Britain (Mr. Sun) is not going to find it at all easy as he will have some hard competition from Herod (Mr. Davis), the Derby winner, King's Warden (Mr. Frost), Sadko (Mr. Harriman), Cossack's Beauty (Mr. Pih) and King's Justice (Mr. Butler). My selection is Soldier of Britain, Herod, and King's Warden.

The Tytam Handicap, "B" Class should give Mr. Why's Blacksmith his first win, and the second and third places are likely to go to Gold Dust and Helluvaella.

The Hong Kong Handicap, "B" Class, will, I think, be a very good race between Messrs. Tester and Abraham's The Tiger, Jungle Jim, and High Honour. My selection is The Tiger.

Able Amazon Challenged. Able Amazon (Mr. Butler) is not going to find it so easy going in the Moonie Ponds Handicap over a mile. Cold Morning (Mr. Fung), Rose Ann, Alacrity, Derby Day (Mr. Frost), and Saucy Face (Mr. Pih) are all starting, and they are all a speedy lot. Mr. Butler, however, will have the satisfaction of knowing that the pony can stand up to a hard finish as was witnessed in the Australian Champions.

I favour Able Amazon, Rose Ann and Cold Morning, in that order.

SAINTS LUCKY TO HAVE PLAY-OFF CHANCE

Miss Holbling was easily the outstanding player, and time and again came to the rescue of the champions with neat interceptions and magnificent spilling.

Miss Jacks, on the left-wing, was very poor and with one or two exceptions bungled things badly on every possible occasion. She failed to combine with Mrs. Moutrie and often over-ran the ball.

Miss Marsh Starved

Miss Marsh, on the right-wing, was starved for the greater part of the game, but when in possession disappointed by centring much too late.

Mrs. Harrop was a dismal failure at centre-forward, while Mrs. Moutrie was not at her best by any means, and missed one or two good passes from Miss McKenna. She was, however, the best of a poor set of forwards.

The Recreio Ladies have their two backs, Miss Osmund and Miss Basto, to thank for having held the champions to a draw. Very fast in their spilling, they cleared with powerful hits which often sent the Recreio forwards away on a dangerous raid.

The Recreio halves also have their share of the glory and did well in preventing Mrs. Moutrie and Miss J. Dalziel from breaking through on several occasions.

Miss Bradbury Injured

Miss V. Bradbury, the "Y" Ladies right-winger, has again hurt her hand, and will be rested to-morrow.

Mrs. Kayll, the Colony Ladies' lawn tennis singles champion, who made her hockey debut some months ago with the "Y" Ladies during practice games, makes her first appearance to-morrow against the Recreio Ladies as the "Y" leader.

Very fast, a powerful hitter, and possessing an excellent eye, she will in time be one of the best forwards in the Colony. She has only to master ball-control before she takes her place regularly with the "Y" Ladies.

Saints Need 'Keeper'

If they hope to win the Cup this season the St. Andrew's Ladies will have to find a safe goal-keeper from somewhere, for playing a three-back game will probably not be very safe a second time against the strong attack of the Hong Kong Ladies.

Throughout the second half on Saturday Miss G. White was more or less playing as a goalkeeper. The other two backs, Miss I. Landolt and Miss L. Jorge, although steady are not safe enough to rely on fully, and I think that it would be a better idea to put a pair of pads on one of these two, preferably the latter, and allow Miss White to play out, for she is one of the steadiest backs the Saints can produce.

The Saints half-line is as good as can be fielded by any Club in the Colony, and with Miss J. Wong playing up to form they should be able to account for most of the Hong Kong forward movements. Their new right-half Miss P. Everest is playing a very hard game at present and combines well with Miss Wong. She, however, lacks experience, and her stick-work is not as good as it might be.

CUSTOMS OF THE HOUSE OF LORDS

A number of titled ladies, headed by two duchesses, determined to set the order at defiance. What followed is best described in the words of a contemporary:

"They presented themselves at the door at nine o'clock in the morning, where Sir William Saunderson respectfully informed them that the Chancellor had made an order against their admittance. The Duchess of Queensberry, as head of the squadron, 'pished' at the ill-breeding of a mere lawyer, and desired him to let them up the stairs privately. After some modest refusals, he swore by G-d he would not let them in. Her Grace, with a noble warmth, answered 'By G-d they would come in, in spite of the Chancellor and the whole House.'

"This being reported, the peers resolved the starve them out. An order was made that the doors should not be opened until they had raised their siege. These Amazons now showed themselves qualified even for the duties of foot-soldiers. They stood there till five in the afternoon without sustenance . . . every now and then playing volleys of thumps, kicks, and raps against the door with so much violence that the speakers in the House were scarce heard.

"When the Lords were not to be conquered by this, the two duchesses (very well apprised of the use of stratagems in war) commanded a dead silence of half an hour, and the Chancellor, who thought this a certain proof of their absence (the Commons also being very impatient to enter) gave order for the opening of the door, upon which they all rushed in, pushed aside their competitors, and placed themselves in the front row of the gallery.

"They stayed there until after eleven, when the House rose, and during the debate gave applause and showed marks of dislike, not only by smiles and winks (which have always been allowed in those cases), but noisy laughs and apparent contempt (which is supposed to be the reason why poor Lord Hervey spoke so miserably).

is indicted for treason or felony, he may still claim trial by his peers and the whole House must sit in judgment.

The proceedings are conducted by the Lord High Steward, who is appointed ad hoc, and each peer must give his separate verdict, beginning with the junior baron.

The first recorded example of this jurisdiction was in 1400, when John Holland, Earl of Huntingdon, was arranged for having plotted the murder of the King. On being found guilty he was sentenced to be drawn to the gallows and there hanged, and "let down" again while still living, and that of his body and burned, and that he should be beheaded, and quartered, and so may God be propitious to his soul.

The last occasion was in 1901, when Earl Russell was sentenced to three months' imprisonment for bigamy.

At the opening of a new Parliament each peer still receives an individual summons couched in terms that have remained unchanged for centuries. He is enjoined to be present personally to treat of certain "arduous and urgent affairs" with the Prelates, Great Men, and Peers of the realm. Compliance with this demand carries with it one valuable privilege.

Every Archbishop, Bishop, Earl or Baron when journeying to the King to obey the King's summons, and when returning home, may take two deer in the King's forests, provided that he takes them in the presence of the forest-keeper, or after winding a horn in his absence. But this privilege, as one conscientious historian remarks, appears to have "fallen into disuse."

An hereditary legislature is no doubt an anachronistic survival. But at least it is a constant reminder that the roots of the present lie deep in the past. The substance of power has passed to the House of Commons. Its traditions remain with the House of Lords.

"HIAWATHA" BIG SUCCESS

Philharmonic Society Triumph

A large and appreciative audience, including His Excellency the Governor and Lady Peel, witnessed the first night of the Hong Kong Philharmonic Society's production of Coleridge-Taylor's "Hiawatha" at the China Fleet Club last night.

Beginning with the striking presentation of a primeval wedding feast and ending with the song "Farewell Forever," "Hiawatha" was undoubtedly one of the finest choral works ever presented by the local musical Society.

The final performance will be staged to-morrow night at 9.15 p.m.

PORTUGUESE VOLUNTEERS' HOLD DINNER

Recruiting Campaign Successful

MORE WORK AND LESS PLAY

An enjoyable evening was spent by the Portuguese Volunteer Defence Corps last night when they held their annual dinner and dance at the Club Lusitano.

The toast to the King was proposed by the Company Commander, Captain S. Jarvis, and this was followed by a toast to the President of Portugal.

The toast to the guests was proposed by Captain Rodrigues, while Dr. T. M. Graca Ozorio replied on behalf of the guests.

The official guests were:—Col. H. B. L. Dowbiggin, O.B.E., Col. L. G. Bird, D.S.O., O.B.E., Marquis de Ficalho, Consul General for Portugal, Col. Harrison, G. S. O. (I), Capt. P. S. M. Wilkinson (Adjutant), Capt. J. S. Rodrigues, Lieut. Dunbar, Lieut. J. V. V. Remedios, Lieut. J. R. Way, Lieut. H. F. Westlake, 2/Lt. F. P. Sequeira, Lieut. T. P. Saunderson, Lieut. H. J. Silva, 2/Lt. H. A. de Barros Botelho, Dr. F. M. Graca Ozorio, Messrs. Leo O'Almada, jun., F. X. D'Almada, jun., G. A. da Roza, A. W. da Roza, T. B. Wilson, F. L. Silva, A. C. Botelho, F. Stafford Smith, W. H. Edmonds, J. O. Remedios, W. F. Arndt, F. J. Figueiredo and Dr. J. W. Barnes.

Captain Jarvis, the Company Commander, during his lengthy speech, remarked on the increase in numbers—from 92 to 131—following the summer Campaign; the evidence that more work was being done, and less play; the shooting and swimming successes of the Company; and the promotion of Captain Rodrigues, the first Portuguese Officer to attain that rank, and that of Lt. Botelho, one of the company's keenest members.

grand acting, still she hardly suggests the dyed-in-the-wool villainess and seems too much the lady to be so hardboiled.

I do not know the name of the new lad, Jackie Kelk, but he rather overdoes the sob-stuff. We have seen pictures of accidents that are "faked" with the help of "shyster" lawyers (remember Leo Tracy in "Accidents Wanted") so the Court-room scene is nothing out of the ordinary, at least in the States.

Cary Grant makes a handsome hero with a kind heart who straightens out everything while Harry Green, Marian Burns, Henry Travers, and many more make the picture worth seeing.

The late Lowell Sherman must not be overlooked for his usual expert direction, and bringing out the best in Miss Young—from an acting standpoint at least—as he did Mae West and Katharine Hepburn. Lowell Sherman most assuredly knew how to handle his women stars, and Miss Young with beauty and talent does not lose one's sympathy, which is a compliment considering the part she plays. Adult entertainment. (King's).

"Private Scandal"

Here is a murder mystery with a strong mixture of comedy, distinguished by some good work by the late Lew Cody (playing a decent character for a change). Ned Sparks, ZaZu Pitts, Phillips Holmes and Mary Brian. The comedy counts in the film more than the mystery, and when Ned Sparks as the detective appears on the scene the crime interest seems to give way to wisecracks. As usual in this type of play you choose every member of a big cast as the murderer, but the real identity is well concealed till the last.

"Lone Cowboy"

This was titled "Fardner" and tells of a small boy brought up in the slums of Chicago who longs to be a cowboy, and fulfills his ambition when his father sends him out to the ranch of an old partner in the West. If you like Jackie Cooper and a juvenile Western which offers just juvenile entertainment then see this at the Alhambra. Lila Lee, Gavin Gordon, Addison Richards, and John Wray are among those who support the boy star.

"The Line-Up"

William Gargan, Marian Nixon, John Miljan, Noel Francis, Paul Hurst, and Harold Huber, are just a few in the cast of "The Line-Up," which is a story full of excitement and thrilling battles between racketeers and the detectives assigned to trace a series of robberies. "Peggy Arnold" a pretty check-room attendant in a fashionable hotel, who, though innocent, is implicated in one of the robberies. The high-light of the picture is the humiliating "line-up" of prisoners. Acting from all concerned is of the high-water mark, Mr. Gargan and Miss Nixon being outstanding. If you care for this type of underworld play this is recommended. (Queen's).

A new style in fables, using the whole skin, with the legs and tail forming a muff. With this smart suit of fur, Miss Glenda Farrell, screen beauty, wears a "Monk's" hat.

Majestic Productions

"Armand and Diana," the famous dancing team from Hollywood are showing as an added attraction with the Janet Gaynor film "Servant's Entrance." Recently they appeared at the King's Theatre and met with the greatest approval. Seldom has more artistic and beautiful dancing been seen, and in the person of Miss "Diana" we have a really pretty, tall, and most graceful girl. They will most certainly enhance the evening's enjoyment as the film, starring adorable Janet Gaynor and Lew Ayres, although an old-told plot, is laid in unusual surroundings and is helped by a splendid all-round cast.

Janet is a pure delight as the rich girl who loves the poor lad, but does not overshadow her leading player who turns in as good as a performance with her as he did in "State Fair."

The Universal thriller "Vanishing Shadow" follows for two more days, with six more chapters in Part II. Electrical devices and unusual inventions of modern science were used in the filming, and Onslow Stevens, the star, with Ada Ince, James Durkin, William Desmond and Sidney Bracy, figures in innumerable thrilling scenes.

Seeing this exciting picture takes me back to the old movie days and the serial queen, Pearl White, and it should prove equally popular in the talkie version. (Majestic).

Oriental Performances

Joe E. Brown is tremendously popular here, and "Son of a Sailor" with a fine cast, consisting of Jean Muir, Frank McHugh, and Thelma Todd, is one of his latest and funniest efforts.

This will be followed by one of the really outstanding films of the year, "The Merry Widow," with fascinating Maurice Chevalier, and the bewitchingly lovely Jeanette MacDonald, not forgetting priceless performances turned in by Edward Everett Horton and George Barbier. The play we have all seen, the movie with MacMurray and John Gilbert is a fond memory, and the talkie? Superb. Don't miss this.

Star Programme

"The Greeks Had a Word for Them" with Ina Claire, Jean Blondell, David Manners, and with the late Lowell Sherman acting and directing, is most assuredly grown-up entertainment.

This will be followed by two English comedians in "For Love of You," the highlight of the film being the setting in Venice and the singing of an Italian tenor.

I cannot recommend "Christopher Strong," starring Katharine Hepburn. This is her second picture, and Colin Clive adds nothing by his acting, and I cannot ring up much success either for the star.

"Slaves Under the Skin" has some strong scenes to recommend it, and a notable cast. Frank Morgan, aged 45, takes a last fling at romance in the person of lovely Elissa Landi. Doris Lloyd is grand as the wife, while Joseph Schildkraut plays the composer in love with Elissa. This is worth while. (Star).

"Forsaking All Others" This is running so successfully, in London that it is holding up the films to follow. It is a comedy set at the Queen's soon.

sation, and Joan Crawford, Robert Montgomery, and Clark Gable, aided by the super direction of W.S. van Dyke, provide entertainment that will be talked about for months. More of this later, but everyone is in for a treat when they see the one and only Joan in a comedy role.

There is a little drama, but that is overshadowed by laughs, and the evident enjoyment the artists and director found in making this really London that it is holding up the films to follow. It is a comedy set at the Queen's soon.

SERVICE CORPS EXPERIMENT

"Goal-Getter Clark" At Centre-Half

This week the Service Corps will take the field without three of the "old familiar faces," but they have re-arranged their team so well that it is questionable whether or not those who departed on the Somersetshire will be greatly missed.

In the absence of Flood, Aloys and Forsythe, it is probable that Digby will move to the right-back position and "goal-getter Clark" will drop back to centre-half to fill Digby's berth. This will probably weaken the attack but, in compensation, it should make the defence one of the strongest in the division.

Digby will still have an opportunity of a bit of solo work, and Clark will not be altogether too far away from the opposing goal.

The team will probably be: Cooper; Digby, Fuller; Jennings, Clark, Crawford; Ames; Daley, Bessley, Eycott, and Vaughan.

PRICE PROMOTED TO GUNNERS' FIRST XI

Worthington Back To Old Position

For their match against the Lincolns this week the Gunners' first team has undergone one change. Price, from the second team, comes in to fill the right-back position from the second team, and thus allows Worthington to play in his normal position at right-half.

Despite the seemingly poor show the forwards put up against South China last week, the line remains the same.

Morton, who has been playing a fair game at centre-forward has no mean task to perform in filling Pardoe's shoes, but as he showed earlier in the season whilst playing for the second team, and again last week, he is no stranger to the pivot position.

In the second team Carter fills the position vacated by Worthington, and Lesley, at inside-right, fills the gap left by Brown, whilst Nash and Ives partner one another at back.

The loss of Pardoe, Scott, and Hopkins has undoubtedly left the Gunners a very depleted side, and they will be fortunate this week if they can manage to garner only one point.

The teams will be:
1st XI—Durham; Price, Clancey; Worthington, Morton, Harris; Edmunds, Brown, Smith, Knight, and Taylor.
2nd XI—Mackrell; Nash, Ives; Carter, Hunt, Fisher, Rivers; Lesley, Sparkes, Moseley, and Farmer.

ORDNANCE FIND BEST TEAM

Unchanged Side Against Fusiliers

Having once again found their "shooting boots," the Ordnance will rely upon the same eleven to do service for them against the Fusiliers as "popped" six in against the Railway last week. If they produce only their normal form they should be a match for the Fusiliers.

The team will be: Lawlor; Gooch; Hopkinson; Gosling; Worfold, McQueen; Prince, Good, O'Brien, Duffield, and Routledge.

ENGINEERS LOOK TO NEW PLAYERS FOR POINTS

The Engineers' Third Division eleven will be without the services of a number of their old players this week-end, but it is hoped that the newcomers to the team, McGrath, Jewell and Burnard, will have found their land legs for their fixture against the Medicals tomorrow.

The team is: Carter; Revill, McGrath; Wells, Coleman, Jewell, Ferris, Jones, Woods, Clark, and Burnard.

Polish Training Ship Due Here

The Dar Pomorza (Gift of Pomerania), the first sailing ship owned by the Polish flag ever to visit Hong Kong is scheduled to arrive in the Colony on March 29, for a stay of five days.

The ship is a three masted frigate of 1,566 tons, and is equipped with a 560 H.P. auxiliary motor. Its length is 240 feet, width 33 feet and has a draft of 20 feet.

The colourful craft left Gdynia, a Polish port on the Baltic, on September 18, 1934, under the command of Captain Konstanty Maciejewicz.

GOVERNOR'S CUP ON SUNDAY

Tso Kwai-shing and Tam Kong-pak are likely to be the most dangerous wing, but in Chris Pile and Parker, both of the Police, they will probably meet more than their match.

A. V. Gosano, the Association right-back, has been given the difficult task of playing "policeman" to the Ip Pak-wa—Lee Shek-yau combine, but should acquit himself well.

Fung King-cheong, the Chinese leader, has not been at his best recently and will have to exert himself if he is to pass McGuire, the Navy pivot, whose bull-dog tenacity is already well-known.

B. Gosano and Higgins, the Association right-wing partnership, are likely to be the most dangerous wing on display, though Ridley and Bickford will probably come in for their share of the limelight.

Judging on recent form, even if the Association are without Howe and Rodger, they stand an excellent chance of retaining the Cup.

C.A.A.F.—Wong Wing (S.C.A.A.); Lee Tin-sang (S.C.A.A.) and Mak Sui-hon (C.A.A.); Lung Wing-chui (S.C.A.A.); Tsui Ah-fai (C.A.A.) and Darkie Chan (Athletic); Tso Kwai-shing (S.C.A.A.); Tam Kong-pak (S.C.A.A.); Fung King-cheong (S.C.A.A.); Ip Pak-wa (S.C.A.A.) and Lee Shek-yau (S.C.A.A.).

H.K.E.A.—G. Rodger (Club); A. V. Gosano (Recreo) and C. Pile (Police); Keneghan (Fusiliers), McGuire (Navy) and Parker (Police); B. Gosano (Recreo), Higgins (Lincolns), Howe (Club), Ridley (Lincolns) and Bickford (Club).

Sergeant Jaley will referee and will be assisted on the line by F. Archer and H. H. Heath.

LINCOLNS REMAIN UNCHANGED

Wardle Returns To Goal For Juniors

For their fixture against the Artillery, the Lincolns will field the same eleven that secured both points from the Police last week-end. Although now without the services of Meakin and Dudley, Reed, between the sticks, and Deeming, at right-half, have proved worthy substitutes, and with the positional changes of English, and Baldry from outside-left to outside-right, the team has lost none of its old dash and may yet spring further surprises in the Senior Division.

The Third Division eleven will make two changes for their "battle royal" fixture against their neighbours the East Lancs. Wardle returns in goal after a long absence at Home, and Berriman makes his debut at centre-half.

The teams are:—
1st XI—Reed; Ash, Edmondson; Deeming, Thompson, Robson; English, Malpas, Higgins, Ridley and Baldry.
2nd XI—Wardle; Martin; Green; Chapman, Berriman, Potter; Day, Dudley, Lilloy, Hildrew, and Thorpe.

PAU KA PING BACK WITH S. CHINA

Between Sticks Against Kowloon

Pau Ka-ping, one of the best custodians that South China have produced, and who has been out of the football limelight for nearly a year, will make a welcome return to the South China "B" eleven when they meet Kowloon at Caroline Hill tomorrow in a First Division encounter.

Pau Ka-ping was selected to represent China in last year's Far Eastern Olympic Games in Manila, but, owing to ill-health at the time, stood down. Wong Wah-kai, the usual "B" team goal-keeper, will be trusted.

The team is:—Pau Ka-ping; Chung Ching-yin, Yu Hing-yuen; Lee Kam, Lim Tak-po, Henry Young; Chan Tak-hon, Lai Shui-wink, Tsang King-ki, Cheuk Shek-kam, and Lee Shek-yau.

ENGINEERS MAKE CHANGES

Enforced Reshuffle But Still Confident

The Sappers, having lost the services of Lester, their versatile centre-half, are making a number of positional changes to maintain the strength of the team.

Whether the move will have the desired effect is yet to be foreseen, but after their victory over the previously unbeaten Lincolns, they are optimistic as the result of their encounter against the Navy juniors at Causeway Bay tomorrow.

Denham will move from right-half to fill the vacant centre-half position; Callard returns at outside-right to allow Boyling to drop back to right half; Budden moves from inside-right to left-half; and Hurst, a newcomer, will be in an inside forward position.

The team is:—Selok; Slack, Dudley; Boyling, Denham, Budden; Callard, Hurst, Darby, Howlett, and Creagh.

ATHLETIC REMAIN UNCHANGED

Darkie Chan Due Here This Afternoon

No changes have been made in the Athletic senior and junior teams for their games against the Fusiliers tomorrow.

Tsui Ah-fai, the pivot, and Chan Chun-wo (Darkie Chan), the left-winger, two of their best senior players, will be seen as they are arriving here, to-day to participate in the Governor's Cup game on Sunday.

The teams are:—
1st XI—Sui Tim-lim; Wong Shek-ping, Mak Shiu-hon; Ng Tak-wing, Tsui Ah-fai, Ho Chor-yin; Leo Hung-ching, Yeung Kan-po, Ho Kar-keung, Chan Chun-wo (Darkie Chan) and Fung King-yu.
2nd XI—Li Kwok-kee; Chan Sui-chun; Tang Kwong-wing; To Ho-hang, Chow Yin-ching; Teo For-lin, Lo Wai-kun, Cheung Moon-wing and Mak Ping-wah.

S. CHINA JUNIOR CHANGES

At Left Half And At Inside-Left

Two changes have been made in the South China Athletic Association's second eleven, who meet the University tomorrow at Caroline Hill.

Yu Wah-hing, the left-half, and In Kan-ming the inside-left, will now be available for the game, and their vacancies will be filled by Ho Chi-wing and Chow Kwan-kong.

The team is:—Tang Yat-ming, Eugene Chong, Tang Chung-pak, Ho Chi-wing, Yeung Chi-cheung, Mok Yim-sang; Ip Yan-po, Chow Kwan-kong, Chan Tak-fai, Lau Chung-kwan and Lai Fat-chol.

man in Lt. Dorson, who arrived by the troopship Somersetshire Dorson captured Sandhurst Military College, England, several years ago and also played for the Army for the past two years.

Though showing superiority in all departments the Police, only managed to defeat the St. Andrews' Club by one goal on the Police Training School ground on Sunday.

The Police have lost one of their best half-backs in Heywood, who is in hospital. His place was taken by Moss, the Police custodian, as the Indian picked to play in this place did not turn up. Moss played very hard, but was of very little use against the fast opposing forwards.

Jessop, who played in goal for the Police several seasons ago and who was not allowed to play at the beginning of the season owing to foot trouble, is once again between the sticks and, playing as safe a game as ever, his clearances, however, lack their old accuracy and strength.

F. A. Broadbridge was seen in the Saints' team again after several weeks' absence; he was playing at number 6 to the Saints from the Y.M.C.A. walls Angus, who played at back with White against the Engineers, and B.A.S.C. was playing at inside-left, where he was completely new and where he failed to combine.

TURNABOUT IS FAIR

The carter came up the entry with another roll, which he deposited with a grunt at the door. "An' how much do you reckon this lot is?" he asked.

"Oh, they're all paid for, don't worry," replied the wife.

"Shall yet give me a hand, Master?" asked the carter.

Radford followed him down the entry in his easy, slouching way.

His wife went after. His waistcoat was hanging loose over his shirt. She watched his easy movement of well-being as he followed him, and she laughed to herself.

The carter took hold of one end of the wire mattress, dragged it forth.

"Well, this is a corker!" said Radford as he received the burden.

"Now the mangle!" said the carter.

"What dost reckon this's been up to, Missis?" asked the husband.

"I said to myself, last wash-day, if I had to turn that mangle again, that's ha'e ter' was the clothes itself."

Radford followed the carter down the entry again. In the street women were standing watching and dozens of men were lounging round the cart.

"One's obviously helped with the wringer," said Mrs. Radford.

"Gee him thrippence," said Mrs. Radford.

"Gee 't him thysen," replied her husband.

Radford tipped the carter and returned indoors. He surveyed the array of crockery, linoleum, mattresses, mangle and other goods crowding the house and the yard.

"Well, this is a winder!" he repeated.

"We stood in need of em enough," she replied.

"I hope they got plenty more from where they came from," he replied dangerously.

SINCLAIR PROMOTED

Playing For Kowloon Premier Eleven

Following his spilted display for the Kowloon second eleven last week, Sinclair has been promoted to the senior eleven who meet South China "B" at Caroline Hill tomorrow.

Sinclair is a newcomer to the Colony, and is in the Royal Army Service Corps.

The team is:—Boyes; Everest and Willie; Sinclair, Bliss and Barlow; Eastman, McKelvie, G. White, V. White, and Knox.

"That's just what I haven't," she opened her purse. "Two half-crowns, that's every copper I've got 't' the world."

He stood very still as he looked. "It's right," she said.

There was a certain smug sense of satisfaction about her. A wave of anger came over him, blinding him; but he waited and waited. Suddenly his arm leapt up, the fist clenched and his eyes glared at her.

She shrank away, pale and frightened, but he dropped his fist to his side, turned, and went out muttering. He went down to the shed that stood in the middle of the garden. There he picked up the tortoise and stood with bent head, rubbing its horny head.

She stood hesitating, watching him. Her heart was heavy and yet there was a curious, catlike look of satisfaction round her eyes. Then she went indoors and gazed at her new cups admiringly.

The next week he handed her half-sovereign without a word. "You'll want some for yourself," she said, and she gave him a shilling. He accepted it, and THE END.

BRAZILIAN TRADE DEBTS TO BRITAIN

Agreement Likely Within A Month

FURTHER ARREARS IMPOSSIBLE THROUGH NEW SCHEME

London, To-day.
The President of the Board of Trade, Mr. Walter Runciman, informed the House of Commons yesterday that negotiations with the visiting Brazilian Financial Mission in regard to the liquidation of the Brazilian frozen trade debts to the United Kingdom had resulted in the formulation of certain proposals which the Brazilian Minister of Finance had undertaken to place before his Government on returning to Brazil. It was hoped that an agreement would be signed in course of the next four weeks.

As regards current trade the Brazilian Government had provided by law that the exchange required to pay for goods imported after February 11, 1935 could be bought freely on the market. Accordingly, no further arrears due to exchange restrictions in respect of imports should arise.

RELATIONSHIP MAINTAINED
The Brazilian Government, he said, would maintain payments under the commercial arrears agreement of 1933 and the payment of the public debt service, in accordance with the plan of February 1934, by retaining the percentage of foreign exchange resulting from all exports.

The Mission had also raised the question of trade relations between the United Kingdom and Brazil and His Majesty's Government had made it clear that they desire to see trade between two countries develop on the basis of a mutually beneficial exchange of goods and services.—British Wireless Service.

KWANGTUNG FORCE STILL IMMOBILISED

The entire area North of the Wu Kiang is in the hands of 60,000 Communists who have returned to Kweichow from Szechuen and Yunnan. Their exact movements are not yet known, though the Kweichow people are afraid that the outlaws may attack Kwelyang. All the Nanking and Kweichow troops are massed on the southern bank of the Wu Kiang.

General Chiang Kai-shek, Chairman of the Military Affairs Commission, though he at first consented to let the Kwangtung and Kwangsi troops go to the aid of Kweichow, soon changed his mind and said that as only several thousand Red remnants remained they did not require the attention of the two Kwang forces. This mistaken stand is strongly criticised by Mr. Hsiao Fu-chen, the "press officer" of the Southwest Political Council.

THE BLUE BIRD ALMOST OUT OF CONTROL

LONG WAIT FOR ATTEMPT
Sir Malcolm Campbell, with his famous racing car "Blue Bird," which has been entirely redesigned and rebuilt, left England by the Aquitania on January 23, with the intention of breaking his own record at Daytona Beach, Florida, and the hope of attaining 300 miles an hour.

Sir Malcolm was compelled to wait for a considerable time before he judged the beach to be in sufficiently good condition for his attempt. Only a narrow strip of sand, just above low water mark, is available for use as a racing track for a few minutes, twice in the 24 hours, and its condition is dependent upon the state of the sea and the wind while the tide is ebbing.

MAIN HOPE FOR RECORD
The streamlined body of the famous car is unconventional. The rear axle has been entirely redesigned. The drive is taken on each wheel separately. Air brakes are fitted; two four-foot-square vanes rising from the side of the body at the first pressure on the brake pedal. The main hope, however, of breaking the previous record depended, it was stated, on the possibility of closing the radiator at high speed and thus having an uninterrupted streamline from stem to stern.

Wind-tunnel test showed that, if the radiator could be closed, an extra 15 miles an hour would be added to the maximum speed. But to pull the lever that closes the radiator means that Sir Malcolm must hold the car steady with one hand while travelling at a speed of about 300 miles an hour.

The engine of the car is the same 12-cylinder Rolls-Royce type engine with which Sir Malcolm set up his previous record. Three gears are fitted, also twin rear wheels to improve the holding power of the car and prevent wheel-slip. The first gear-change is made at 110 miles an hour and the change into top gear at 205 miles an hour.

The engine develops 2,350 horsepower with ordinary petrol, but

JAMAICA DRAW WITH M.C.C.

Tame Finish To Game At Kingston

Kingston, Jamaica, To-day.
The M.C.C., set 163 to win in little over 90 minutes, scored 75 for the loss of one wicket before their three-day match with Jamaica, was abandoned as a draw yesterday.

Losing their last wicket without addition yesterday morning the tourists found themselves 18 in arrears on the first innings. Steady bowling, however, kept the runs down when Jamaica went in a second time and a draw was soon inevitable.

Scores, as cabled by Reuter, were:
Jamaica 305: (Barrow 108, Moodie 94, K. Farnes 4 for 68) and 146 for 3 dec.
M.C.C. 289: (Hendren 118, E.-R. T. Holmes 72, Fuller 4 for 69) and 76 for 1.

CANTON-HANKOW RAILWAY HEADS IN CONFERENCE

Mr. Li Sen-kan, managing director of the southern section, and Mr. Yen Teh-ching, chief engineer of the Ministry of Railways, are now touring the southern section of the railway. They arrived at Lohchang on Wednesday evening and proceeded to Pingshek yesterday.

When the unfinished portion of the railway is completed, merchants in South China expect a trade boom to follow the through railway service between the Yangtze provinces and Canton.

STERLING'S DECLINE

"It is impossible to try and stabilise the currency on gold in the present circumstances," he continued, saying that he had not changed his view that there was no better international standard than gold, but we could take no steps to revert to the gold standard until conditions were so favourable that, having reverted, we could be pretty certain of our ability to remain there.—Reuter.
